ACTFL / NFMLTA / MLJ Announce Dissertation Support Grants Competition

The American Council on the Teaching of Foreign Languages (ACTFL), the National Federation of Modern Language Teachers' Associations (NFMLTA), and the Modern Language Journal (MLJ) are pleased to announce a call for applications for two new support grants for dissertation research.

The purpose of this collaboration between ACTFL, NFMLTA, and the MLJ is to help support two graduate students during the research and writing phase of their dissertations that focus on the field of language teaching and learning. Look for the announcement for the Dissertation Support Grants on the ACTFL Homepage: www.actfl.org

How would you define a "heritage student?"

For the answers to this and other frequently asked questions regarding heritage speakers and learners, read the interview with Domnita Dumitrescu, Book/Media Review Editor of Hispania.
