

ACUPA Terms and Conditions of Membership

Membership in ACUPA is subject to the following terms and conditions of membership.

Membership Type	Description of Eligibility and Voting Rights
Higher Education	Individual/Institutional: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a current employee of a higher education institution • membership includes voting rights • membership is transferable to another employee of the same higher education institution for the remainder of the calendar year upon notification to ACUPA
Other Education	Individual/Institutional: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a current employee of an educational institution other than higher education (e.g., primary, secondary, technical institute) • membership includes voting rights • membership is transferable to another employee of the same education institution for the remainder of the calendar year upon notification to ACUPA
Governmental	Individual/Agency: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a current employee of a federal, state, or county agency/entity • membership includes voting rights • membership is transferable to the another employee of the same agency for the remainder of the calendar year upon notification to ACUPA
Retired from Education	Individual: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a former employee of an education institution (higher education or other education institution); • individual must not be receiving income from a for-profit entity which considers education policy functions as a marketing target niche; (if so, consider affiliate membership) • no voting rights
Student	Individual: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a student attending a college, university, or other educational institution • no voting rights • membership is not transferable
Affiliate	Individual: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • a policy administrator in an entity not reflected in one of the categories listed above • membership is contingent upon review and approval of at least two-thirds of ACUPA's Board of Directors • if approved, membership is transferable to another employee of the same firm for the remainder of the calendar year upon notification to ACUPA • no voting rights