Notes from the president

Seward County Community College continues to focus on its mission of improving the life of the individual student. The students have changed during nearly 40 years of classes, but the college continues to adapt to those individual needs. We have more students attending on a part-time basis, we have more students commuting to classes, we have more students who are parents, and more students who enter careers directly after graduating from SCCC instead of transferring to a university to complete their degrees. Those changes in the life of a student require additional attention to issues such as course schedules, increased access to web-based courses, on-line advising, on-line enrollment, etc.

In an effort to meet those changing student needs, SCCC has embarked on a project to take the college to our area communities. College staff "host" a basketball game at each of our area high schools. We provide door prizes, give away T-shirts and other promotional items and have a drawing for a $100 scholarship provided by the SCCC Development Foundation. Hosting these games provides the communities with an opportunity to learn more about SCCC, allows prospective students to receive a scholarship, and provides alumni the opportunity to reconnect with SCCC. As an alum, you are always encouraged to visit with our staff and let us know how we can better serve your home community as we continue to improve the individual life of each SCCC student.

Drawing, auction and individuals assist foundation

Each year the Development Foundation provides over $500,000 in scholarships and other support to Seward County Community College. That would not be possible without donations and support of special fundraising efforts.

The most recent fundraiser for the foundation was a drawing for a 42-inch LCD TV, round trip airfare for two to Denver and a $200 beef bundle. Bank of America, Liberal, sponsored the television, Great Lakes Airlines donated the tickets and Supreme Cattle Feeders sponsored the beef bundle.

The drawing was March 3 at the Saints Basketball games and raised $4,771. Winners were Bill Hill, ('76), airfare; Michael Johnson, beef bundle; and Paul Hood, TV.

One of the major events in the fall is the party auction, which raises over $30,000 each year. Local and area businesses donate products, hand-crafted items and services to the auction. Cash donations are also used to purchase other items. Over 300 individuals attend the auction each year. The next auction is schedule for Saturday, Sept. 22. Alumni are invited to donate an item for the auction and attend the event, which includes both a silent and live auction. Last year one item that was donated to the auction was an SCCC T-shirt quilt that reflected the different logos and successes of the college over the years.

ALUMNI REMEMBER SCCC

Alums reunite at U.S. Senior Open

The game of golf brought two young men together in 1972, at a new junior college in Liberal, Kan. Since the beginning years of Seward County Community College, Doug Bailess, ('73) and Blaine Knott, ('74) became best friends and played golf together at SCCC and have grown even closer 35 years later. This past summer, Bailess qualified and competed in the United States Senior Open Golf Tournament at Prairie Dunes Country Club in Hutchinson, Kan. What made Bailess' experience at the U.S. Senior Open so special for him was he spent every swing during his two days competing at the tournament with Knott, who Bailess chose as his caddy.

Doug Bailess congratulates a young golfer while competing in the U.S. Senior Open in Hutchinson this past summer.

Bailess began his collegiate golf career at SCCC in 1971. He was recruited by a family friend, Dudley Freeman, who was SCCC's first head golf coach. Bailess was a sophomore when Knott joined the Saints golf and men's basketball programs in the fall of 1972. Bailess knew he had found a life-long friend when Knott joined him his sophomore year.

"His personality and mine, we just got as close as you could get," said Bailess. "We had a brother-type of relationship. He was just a great person to be around and one of the most positive people I have ever met in my life."

Knott, originally from Plains, Kan., was honored and delighted to share in Bailess' big event while being his caddy at the U.S. Senior Open. "I was awfully proud of him," said Knott, who is a human resource manager at Boeing in Wichita. "Bailess is one of those guys who tries as hard as he can at everything he does. He decided he was going to be a golfer, he has worked and worked and worked, and even to this day he is working to be a better golfer. He has goals and when he sets his mind to achieving goals he is usually successful in getting what he wants."

Bailess, who works at a stainless-steel scrap company in Spring, Texas, not only competed in one of the major golf tournaments, but he also returned to Prairie Dunes where he and Knott competed in a golf tournament while playing for SCCC. "It brought me back to where my roots really started—at Seward County Community College," said Bailess. "Coach Freeman brought me into Liberal and offered me a golf scholarship. I loved golf and he gave me the opportunity to extend my career, and that opportunity really opened doors and helped me mature more and move on to play at Wichita State."

While a member of the SCCC golf team, Bailess won a number of tournaments and qualified to play in the 1973 NJCAA National Tournament. Bailess graduated from SCCC and continued his career at WSU where he was named WSU Player of the Year in 1975. He later became the head golf coach at Southwestern Oklahoma State University (SWOSU) in Weatherford, Okla., and was named Conference Coach of the Year in 1977.

Freeman, who has retired from his administrative position at Oklahoma City Community College, remembers Bailess and Knott as not only the closest of friends, but also as strong citizens that he was proud to have associated with his golf program and Seward County Community College.

"It was a joy to be around both Doug and Blaine, they were both outstanding young men," said Freeman. "It is hard to find players who want to play, and Doug did. Doug Bailess was one of the best players to ever play at Seward County."

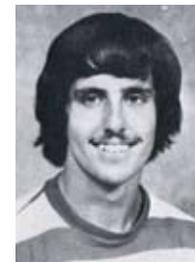

"Blaine Knott was a leader at the college," said Freeman. "You can't be a leader by just being there, and both Blaine and Doug were leaders at the college and with the golf team."

Bailess has great memories of Liberal and SCCC. "It was an easy campus to start friendships," Bailess said. Even though he was not from the area, he was able to meet local people and make new friends.

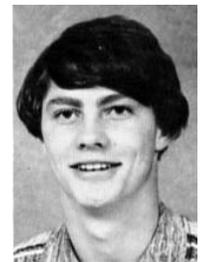

"Meeting people was a positive thing for me and that is why SCCC gave me a lot of confidence and I became friends with people very quickly there," said Bailess. "I think it was the warmth of the college and the people there that helped me as a student."

Knott remembers taking classes at the Epworth Hospital, before the main campus was built. "When I was a student, the college was at (former) Epworth Hospital," said Knott. "My sophomore year they were gradually moving onto the new campus. You could just tell that SCCC was going to be a fantastic place for kids to go to school. If I would have been a couple of years younger I would have really enjoyed being on the new campus, but, I would have never met Bailess either, the best friend I ever had."

"We talk quite a bit," said Bailess about his friendship with Knott. "Even when we don't talk for a week or two it will be like we have never left off."

Celebrity judging proves successful

A tremendous success is the best way to describe the ninth annual Celebrity Livestock Judging Contest that raised money for agricultural scholarships and program activities at Seward County Community College. The Celebrity Auction set a record with gross receipts exceeding $10,000, according to Evan Winchester, agriculture coordinator at SCCC. The event traditionally has raised between $6,000 - $7,000 per year.

One rivalry that has become a tradition with this contest is the "Darin and Tommy challenge trophy." This award is given to the worst score in the sheep division between Darin Workman, SCCC instrumental music instructor, and Tommy Williams, ('75), dean of administrative services. This year's winner was Williams, with Workman having the best score in the sheep division.

High team overall was the team sponsored by Byron Bird and Associates and the McCracken family, which included Renee and Kevin McCracken, Melissa Wilson and celebrity Jeff Wilson.

High individual was Renee McCracken. The high placing celebrity in the contest was Ashley Harrison, ('99). Other celebrities included Todd Thrasher, ('86), second; Charliss (Ruff) Thrasher, ('99) third; Stacy King, Kent Williams, ('03) and Frank Swan.

In the agriculture affiliate division, Harrison was high individual in cattle and sheep. There was a four-way tie for first in swine between Kris Zysset, ('00), Keith Bryant, Shawn Plunkett and Alan Imler, ('87). Trailing Harrison as high individual was Dr. Duane Dunn, SCCC president, second.

In the agriculture division, Renee McCracken was first overall, followed by Todd Thrasher, second.

The team sponsored by the Sharp McQueen law firm and the Dorman family was first in the ag affiliate division.

A portion of the proceeds will go to the Steve Williams Memorial Scholarship Fund

Ag alumni Charliss Thrasher, Todd Thrasher and Alan Imler wait to hear their scores at the 9th Annual Celebrity Livestock Judging Contest.

SCCC Athletes bring success to SCCC

The Saints Athletic Department celebrated fine achievements throughout the year by the athletes who wear their Saints uniforms proudly.

The Lady Saints Basketball Team finished a phenomenal season with a third-place finish at the NJCAA National Tournament, with a 58-48 victory over No. 1 seeded Southeastern Illinois College at the Bicentennial Center in Salina. The Lady Saints seven-player roster, along with injured sophomores Ilda Chambe and Alyson Snell, and the coaching staff of Coach Toby Wynn and Assistant Coach Kim Ortega-Davis completed the second-best season in the history of SCCC women's basketball with a 36-2 overall record. Seward County went 3-1 at the national tournament and was led by all-tournament team selections, freshman Tegan Cunningham and sophomore Chelsea Blackshear. Cunningham averaged 20.5 points and 10.5 rebounds per game while Blackshear averaged 11.5 points, 6.0 assists, 4.3 rebounds and made nine 3-point field goals. The Seward County basketball program is now 14-5 (.737) in five years of competition at the NJCAA National Tournament.

Wynn, the Jayhawk West Conference Coach of the Year, saw his roster dwindle down to just seven players during the last 14 games of the season after two sophomore players suffered season ending injuries. The Lady Saints recorded a perfect 14-0 record in their non-conference schedule, marking 43 straight non-conference wins. After completing the regular season with a 15-1 Jayhawk West Conference record, the Lady Saints were crowned regular season conference champions, the 10th championship since 1994. The Lady Saints entered the NJCAA Region VI Tournament as the No. 1 seeded team and defeated No. 2 tournament seed Coffeyville Community College, 68-65, in overtime to claim the Region VI Tournament title. Cunningham was named Tournament MVP and Chontaye Walter along with Taushelle Rushing were All-Tournament Team selections.

The Lady Saints Volleyball Team completed its season with a 23-25 overall record and with a runner-up finish at the NJCAA D-I Region VI Tournament. Several players on this year's team set records including Janete Ferreira (667 kills), Katy Troutman (777 digs) and Alex Droogsm (1,751 assists). Ferreira, the team's top player has signed a national letter of intent for 2007-08 with Oral Roberts University to continue her collegiate playing career.

The Saints Basketball Team had an up-and-down season that was highlighted by a Region VI First Round upset that qualified the Saints to advance into the Region VI Tournament in Wichita. The team entered the tournament seeded 13th. SCCC sophomore Hank Harris scored a game-high 27 points.

The Saints were led this season by sophomores Theron Wilson and Michael Tyree. Wilson led the Region VI during the regular season in scoring (19.4 points per game) and rebounding (10.8 rebounds). Wilson was twice named National Player of the Week and was named Second Team All-Conference and First Team All-Region VI. Tyree completed his Seward County career as one of the best shooters in the program's history. In the final game, Tyree made four three-point field goals to finish the season with 100, breaking the record 97 set in 1996-97 by Rashon Mickens.

Saints 11th-year head coach Dave Brown moved into sixth place all-time in Region VI history in career wins with 253. Brown's career winning percentage (.711)

CHANGES AND ACCOMPLISHMENTS AT SCCC

Nursing graduates achieve 100% pass rate

The SCCC nursing program received official notification from the Kansas State Board of Nursing (KSBN) of the licensure results for the 2006 graduates. The SCCC Associate Degree Nursing program pass rate for first-time candidates taking the National Council Licensure Examination for the Registered Nurse was 100%, the Kansas average pass rate was 86.02%, and the national average pass rate was 88.11%. The ADN program had its first graduating class in 1982 and there have been five graduating classes with 100% pass rate on the NCLEX-RN exam (1982, 1983, 1985, 1991, 2006).

For the second year in a row, the SCCC Practical Nursing program pass rate for first-time candidates taking the National Council Licensure Examination for the Practical Nurse was 100%. The Kansas average pass rate was 93.34% and the national average was 87.87%. The LPN program had its first graduating class in 1979 and there have been 14 graduating classes with 100% pass rate on the NCLEX-PN exam (1981, 1984, 1985, 1986, 1988, 1989, 1992, 1993, 1994, 1995, 1996, 1998, 2005, 2006).

"We are proud of our graduates and the hard work necessary to achieve these results," said Steve Hecox, Director of Nursing. "This is only the second time in the history of the SCCC nursing programs that both programs have achieved a 100% pass rate on the national exams during the same year. Our nursing faculty are dedicated individuals who strive to provide the best learning experiences possible for the students. We appreciate the support of the SCCC administration and board as well as support provided by employees of Southwest Medical Center, our medical community and other clinical affiliates."

"Obtaining my nursing degree through SCCC and Epworth was the most rewarding and intense time of my life," said Jessica Linaweaver, 2006 ADN graduate. "I jumped feet first into a pool of the most supportive people I had ever met. Everyone from the instructors to the janitors were there every step of the way with words of encouragement to keep my spirits high and my goal of becoming a RN right in front of me at all times. I never once felt like a number, and each instructor took the time to help me with any problem I may have had immediately. I have great pride and admiration for SCCC, Epworth, and each and every employee that I came in contact with over those wonderful three years. I take to work with me each and every one of them, and thank them everyday for what I have now as a career."

MLT program now online

Seward County Community College has taken its Medical Laboratory Technician program to new heights by offering this two-year program online. This program trains technicians to work together with a team of pathologists, physicians and specialists to determine the presence, extent or absence of disease and provide data needed to evaluate the effectiveness of treatment. Students who choose to take this program online can obtain the course materials online, including syllabus, unit objectives, lecture notes, discussion questions and exam reviews. Course examinations are conducted in a proctored setting. Online learning gives the student the opportunity to work at his or her own pace and interact with peers and instructors through email and online discussions and eliminates the need for child care, travel and parking expenses and relocation. The laboratory portion of each course may be completed at a cooperative laboratory in or near the student's hometown or on the SCCC campus.

The Respiratory Therapy and Surgical Technology programs will begin their online instruction in fall 2007 offering a combination of online and face-to-face instruction.

Xtreme Challenge continues its success

More than 250 students and sponsors from 13 area high schools competed in the second annual Xtreme Challenge on the campus of Seward County Community College in March. These academic contests brought in 80 more students this year than in the first competition last year.

The overall winners have to compete in three contests, and they must compete in at least two academic categories. The nine academic categories were open to all high school students, freshmen through seniors.

Each contest ranked the top 10 competitors, and, at the end of the day, all contestant points were tallied to determine the high school with the most overall points. That award went to Liberal High School. Liberal brought 27 students, followed by Satanta with 24. Other schools were Boise City, Balko, Forgan, Goodwell and Turpin in Oklahoma and Elkhart, Moscow, Rolla, South Gray, Bucklin and Southwestern Heights in Kansas. The nine academic challenge areas included art, journalism, criminal justice, cosmetology, computers, marketing management, accounting, agriculture and administrative professionals.

General education courses, degrees online

SCCC is a founding member of EduKan, an internet community college, that offers students the opportunity to complete coursework or an associate degree over the internet. EduKan began offering classes in 1999 and gained full accreditation from the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools in 2002. It is the first consortium-sponsored associate degree program in the state. Classes in a full range of degree-directed topics are offered each spring, summer and fall semester. EduKan courses may be taken concurrently with on-campus classes. The consortium includes Barton County, Colby, Dodge City, Pratt and Garden City community colleges. Credits earned through EduKan may be granted, at the student's designation, by any of the six colleges.

For transfer and degree purposes, there is no difference between credits earned through EduKan or on-campus courses. For information, log on to www.edukan.org.

SCCC now has a Challenge Course to help foster skills in goal-setting, team-building, self-esteem and conflict resolution. High elements include cat walks, zip lines, and a giant ladder, and low elements include TP shuffle, Mohawk walk and 12-foot wall. Challenge course goals including easing transition from high school to college, facilitating academic and emotional growth and encouraging risk-taking, group building, trust, communication, leadership and teamwork as students reflect on their life and current habits.
