

CHRIS MAYER

EXECUTIVE VP AND CHIEF INNOVATION OFFICER – SUFFOLK CONSTRUCTION COMPANY, INC.

Chris is responsible for overseeing the company's innovation initiatives, managing their execution, and measuring their results to achieve safer, high quality, and more affordable building. Prior to joining Suffolk, Chris was a consultant in the digital media and online education industries where his focus was on developing strategic technology plans that align with, and enable, successful business growth. Chris was also the publisher of The Boston Globe and president of The New England Media Group newspaper responsible for the Globe, Worcester Telegram & Gazette and boston.com. Chris received his Bachelor of Science degree in computer science from Yale University.