

National Center for Faculty Development & Diversity Institutional Membership

NCFDD Institutional Membership provides an external mentoring community designed to help faculty members, graduate students, and post-docs increase research and writing productivity and improve work-life balance.

NCFDD Institutional Membership offers relevant professional development training, intense and reliable support from highly-trained and successful mentors, a confidential “safe space” for problem-solving and peer-mentoring, and a convenient virtual format so that members can learn at their convenience.

Membership Benefits:

- Greater success with publications and securing external funding for research
- Increased confidence as an independent researcher
- Healthier relationships with departmental colleagues
- Increased interactions with campus-based and external mentors, sponsors, and collaborators
- Increased job satisfaction

How to Activate Your Institutional Sub-Account Membership

1. Visit www.FacultyDiversity.org/Registration.
2. Select your institution's name from the list of Institutional Members.
3. Create a username and enter your first and last name.
4. On the next page, complete the registration process. Be sure to include your institutional e-mail address (i.e. @university.edu).
5. You will receive a welcome e-mail within two business days confirming that your account is active and that you can access the NCFDD resources.

"The supportive community that the NCFDD provides has given many of our faculty new ways to organize their work so that they can both be productive and have time for families and friends. Balance is the term that comes to mind, but it is more than that."
