

Cheryl Hutchinson
Chief Human Resources Officer
ConnectiCare

Cheryl Hutchinson plays a key role in building, developing and retaining the talent needed to bring ConnectiCare's values to life. She and her team are champions of ConnectiCare's culture and are charged with cultivating a workforce that delivers on the company's promise to make it easy for members to get the care that they need. Cheryl has more than 20 years of senior leadership experience across health care, consumer, retail and professional services firms where she was successful at driving growth through effective human resource strategies. Additionally, Cheryl has been a keynote speaker at Executive summits in New York, Boston and San Francisco on the topics of human resources leadership, effective team building, employee engagement and the power of appreciation. She earned a bachelor of science in business administration from Albertus Magnus College. She is on the board of directors of Human Resources Leadership Forum of Southern New England, is a member of the Society for Human Resource Management and previously served on the board of advisors for The Culture Works in Salt Lake City, UT.