Pricing Options

Fixed: With our fixed rate plan, natural gas rates are locked in over the life of your contract, regardless of market price fluctuation. This is a good option for customers who prefer the security of a fixed rate. Fixed pricing is also a simple way to manage month-to-month energy costs, since the rate does not change with the energy market.

NYMEX + Fixed Basis: Customers who prefer to purchase at market price can opt for a fixed basis (interstate transportation). Basis plans are well suited for those who want to hedge part of their energy expenditures, yet still benefit from low variable market prices.

Variable: A variable plan is best suited for those who do not want to lock in any portion of their basis or commodity costs. Variable plans are offered on a month-to-month contract and can be converted to a fixed-price contract at any time.
