

1995 ITAA Fellow – Jan Yeager

Jan Yeager of West Virginia University is widely respected for her ability to balance her responsibilities in teaching, service, research and creative activities. Jan has provide exemplary service to ITAA in a variety of positions including serving as Membership Committee Chair, Co-chair of the 1993 meeting, and ITAA Treasurer for six years. Her skills at monitoring, organizing and attention to detail as treasurer are greatly appreciated. Jan's dedicated service to ITAA is only one aspect of her professional activities. She has performed several roles in the West Virginia Home Economics Association, has received several awards for outstanding teaching and has authored an important text on textiles for interiors. Her textile design work has received many state, regional and national awards. Her enthusiasm for ITAA is described as infectious and she has the ability to make members feel they are important contributors. Jan is an individual who makes ITAA what it is, enhancing its meaning and value for all of us.