CALL FOR REVIEWERS

The Journal of Human Sciences and Extension is opening a call for reviewers in the area of apparel, textiles, and merchandising. As our first deadline (March 15) approaches, we have a diverse group of submissions and would like to offer this opportunity to members of ITAA. . A light reviewing load is anticipated, given the broad interdisciplinary scope of the journal. We expect manuscript reviews to be completed in about two weeks, as the goal is to offer authors quick turnaround time. Additional information about the journal is provided below. If you are interested or have additional questions, please contact Dr. Charles Freeman. Please include research area interests in the email.
