FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

RESIDENTIAL CLEANING COMPANIES PROVIDE FREE CLEANING SERVICES TO RONALD McDONALD HOUSE CHARITIES IN SEATTLE

APRIL 18, 2016 – COLUMBUS, OH – Residential cleaning companies in Seattle have generously begun providing free cleaning services to the Ronald McDonald House Charities through a new project. Kleaning for Kids is a joint project between local Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC) and the Association of Residential Cleaning Services International (ARCSI).

Kleaning for Kids launched in Seattle on March 5, thanks to the cleaning services provided the following residential cleaning companies:

- Adrienne's Housekeeping, Inc. (Redmond, WA)
- April Lane's Cleaning Company (Seattle, WA)
- Queen Bee Cleaning (Lynnwood, WA)
- Susan's Green Cleaning (Seattle, WA)
- Tihani's Cleaning Service (Seattle, WA)

"All of the people that participated had such a wonderful experience," Angela Parrish, the program coordinator at April Lane's Cleaning Company said. "The Ronald McDonald House Charities and the services that they provide for our community left us speechless. All of us, at one time or another, know a loved one or someone that has been affected by cancer. This was our opportunity to give back and truly make a difference."

Kleaning for Kids began in 2015 with pilot programs in Columbus and Atlanta and is quickly expanding to other cities, including St. Louis, Metro DC and northern Virginia, Norfolk and Philadelphia. Assistance from ARCSI member companies is on a completely volunteer basis. ARCSI appoints local liaisons near each Ronald McDonald House to work with their volunteer coordinator. Please contact Erin Lasch at the ARCSI office at 614-547-0887 if you are interested in speaking with volunteers in the Seattle area.
