“My membership with MiMGMA is ‘essential’ in managing a busy medical practice in today’s healthcare environment. In speaking with other practice managers, it is apparent I am not alone in this thought. What MiMGMA provides are resources. Resources we may not necessarily find anywhere else. From the michmgma.org website, to the quality conferences held various times throughout the year, MiMGMA allows us the opportunity to stay current on the ‘pressing issues’ facing each medical practice today. We know we are not alone as we face many challenges such as implementing a new computer/EHR system or preparing for ICD 10. MiMGMA provides us the resources to develop relationships with vendors as they work with us to meet the needs of our organizations. Whether you are a new manager or a very experienced manager, a manager of a large organization or a small organization, the networking and professional friendships formed throughout MiMGMA provide another resource, a resource called Support. MiMGMA also provides the resources for higher education through the American College of Medical Practice Executives. The ROI for an active member of MiMGMA cannot be accurately measured. My personal experience of saving my organization thousands and thousands of dollars by networking with vendors speaks for itself. As practice managers, we simply cannot afford to not belong to MiMGMA. I would encourage all practice managers/administrators to see what MiMGMA has to offer. You will not be disappointed.”

“In 2007, I attended my first MiMGMA meeting with another colleague. To my surprise, MiMGMA was totally different from all other conferences I had attended. There were so many informative sessions to attend, vendors with new products and other colleagues willing to share ideas and suggestions. I’ve not only made great friendships but I have a great support system with other managers around Michigan.”
