Years in Practice: 22

Years as Clinical Supervisor: 10

Clinical Orientation: Areas of Expertise: I have primarily worked in aging and end-of-life care for the last 20 yrs. I consider myself to be a geriatric social worker as much as a hospice social worker. Prior to receiving my MSW I was an LPC and worked for more than 10 years in mental health and have intermittently worked in mental health. Understanding and recognizing psychopathology and family dynamics are essential skills for the medical social worker. I have worked in the areas of hospice, adult day care, home health, long term care, psychiatry, home based family intervention, and national policy. My approach is eclectic; every technique or theory will not fit everyone but is a tool in your tackle box! My goal is for supervisees to feel comfortable exploring their clinical experiences and consider alternative viewpoints and approaches. The expectation is that you would bring case scenarios and current conundrums to each session.

Type of Supervision: Individual; Paired or Group

Cost Per Hour: Individual — $60/hr; Paired — $30/hr Group (3 or more) — $24/hr Hourly rates are stated for comparison. Clinical orientation: Like many older clinicians, I've had education and training in numerous practice orientations. These include earlier models and theories like ecological, psychodynamic, Object relations, self-psychology, attachment, existential, behavioral, CBT and many of the experiential therapies such as psychodrama, bioenergetics, psychomotor and gestalt therapy. Additionally, I've had training and supervision in various forms of brief therapy and family systems approaches (interactional, strategic, structural, Behavioral, Bowenian, Milan school and narrative). I've continued to incorporate more recent practice methods such as EMDR (not yet certified) Trauma-focused CBT, Mindfulness-based psychodynamic, Complexity theory, Component-based therapy, Boal's theater of the oppressed and Nightmare re-processing. However, the orientations I seem to 'lean on' most consistently are psychodynamic, existential, Process-oriented Cognitive and family systems

Type of supervision: Individual/dyadic and Group
