Changes to NFRC Certification Cycle Announced

On October 30, 2015, NFRC's Board of Directors approved extending the NFRC fenestration product certification cycle from four years to five years.

This change will take effect on March 1, 2016, allowing NFRC time to update and test its Certified Products Directory and Attachments Product Directory to accommodate the change.

After careful consideration by the Board, the five-year certification cycle will not be retroactive and will apply only to products certified or recertified on or after March 1, 2016. The rationale for this action is as follows:

- It will avoid creating unforeseen loopholes that may inadvertently undermine the integrity of our rating and certification program.
- It will prevent possible confusion among consumers, code officials, and design-build professionals, which in turn could result in significant time and associated costs for NFRC to manage.
- It is the most fair and equitable solution for all stakeholders.

For more information, please refer to the bulletin distributed November 12, 2015.
