Black Lives Matter: Ohio Psychological Association Statement

December 1, 2015

Written by: OPA Board of Directors with special thanks to Diversity Committee and its chair, Dr. Gary Carrington

Black Lives Matter to the Ohio Psychological Association (OPA). As a profession, psychologists are deeply interested in working toward the betterment of all people. We are working to increase public awareness of the negative impact of racial inequality on the wellbeing of American citizens. OPA enthusiastically supports the inclusion of diverse voices in the operation of our organization.

As an organization, OPA is also actively engaged in conversations to meet the needs of African-Americans. We seek to add voices to that dialogue. If you would like to participate in the discussion please contact Dr. Eric Sullivan (ericsullivan1@gmail.com), Dr. Gary Carrington (garycarrington13@yahoo.com), or OPA graduate student representative, Roshni Rao (rao.27@wright.edu).
