Nigel Costolloe,
2017 Chair
PDCA National

I am fortunate to be Chair as PDCA pivots to a new version of itself – PDCA 2.0. This new PDCA must be agile and responsive as demographics, technology and our own industry evolves. All member organizations are losing dues-paying members as the internet makes everything 'free'; PDCA must become the go-to resource for the internet savvy contractor looking for business and technical content; this new generation of members expects immediate results delivered electronically to their device of choice. But if we are to become more relevant to the industry in general, to our partners and Champions, to our members, and even to non-members who are willing to pay a higher price for access to our unique content, we must adapt and evolve.

At PDCA we will always work to be an association built on relationships, shared knowledge, trust and communication – this is our secret sauce. I hope you will help us on this journey, offering constructive feedback and engaging as a leader on local, regional and national level. We are only as strong as our membership.

Here's to a successful and profitable 2017.
