

Fixing the Time Crunch to Help Students

Problem: The move to prior-prior tax year information has allowed colleges and universities to move up their deadlines, which may put more pressure on students in the fall of their senior year.

NCAN Proposal: If colleges and universities agree to set their priority deadlines no earlier than February 1, students will have more time to apply for college.

