National Summer Learning Association Website

This Privacy Policy describes the current policies and practices of National Summer Learning Association (NSLA) with regard to Personal Data collected by NSLA through its website, www.summerlearning.org (the "NSLA Website" or Website). The term "Personal Data" refers to personally identifiable information about you, such as your full name, birth date, e-mail address or mailing address, phone number and any other information that can be used to identify or contact you.

This Privacy Policy is periodically updated. Please check back on a regular basis for any changes.

Personal Data Collected. The only Personal Data NSLA currently collects through the NSLA Website is the Personal Data that is voluntarily provided to NSLA by users. For example, users may become members of NSLA or make a donation to NSLA through the Website. To do so, a user must enter certain Personal Data.

Non-Personal Data Collected. Other data that does not qualify as Personal Data because it cannot be used to contact or identify Users (Non-Personal Data) may also be automatically collected about the user. For example, NSLA may use technology to automatically collect Non-Personal Data about the use of the NSLA Website. This technology is used to track how many users access the NSLA Website, the date and time of their visits, the length of their stays, and which pages they view. NSLA may also use technology to determine which web browsers users use and the address from which they accessed the Website. The information collected using this technology does not identify any user personally and is thus all Non-Personal Data that simply enables NSLA to compile statistics about users and their use of the NSLA Website. NSLA uses this Non-Personal Data and may share it with third parties to improve the content and functionality of the NSLA Website, to better understand our customers and markets, and to improve our products and services.

Cookies. We may store certain information from your web browser using cookies. A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user's computer tied to information about the user. We may use session-ID cookies to confirm that registered users are logged in. These cookies would terminate once the user closes the web browser. We may also use persistent cookies that store certain Personal Data you already provided to us to make it easier for you to log back in to the NSLA Website. Cookies are used as a convenience feature for the user. You can remove or block cookies using the settings in your browser if you want to disable them.

Use of Personal Data Collected. NSLA uses the Personal Data collected on the NSLA Website to provide users with the requested services or products. If you become a member on the NSLA Website and request additional information on NSLA's services, for example, NSLA will use your Personal Data to contact you and provide the additional information you requested. NSLA may also use the Personal Data to contact you for a variety of reasons, such as but not limited to notifying you about recent case studies, offering you additional products or services, or requesting your feedback on the Website.

Disclosure of Personal Data Collected. NSLA may disclose Personal Data to third parties under certain circumstances. For example, Personal Data such as name, address, email address and phone number (but not credit card numbers or other financial data) is made available to other members of NSLA, who may use it for any purpose. In addition, NSLA may disclose Personal Data to third parties if a user has requested that NSLA do so. NSLA may also disclose Personal Data to its affiliates, contractors and partners, who will use the Personal Data in compliance with this Privacy Policy. If NSLA is acquired by or merged into another entity, or all or a portion of NSLA's assets are sold or otherwise transferred to another entity, NSLA may disclose Personal Data to that entity. NSLA may also disclose Personal Data if required or authorized to do so by law.

Security Measures. NSLA uses industry standard security measures to protect your Personal Data. While such security measures provide reasonable protections against unauthorized access, they provide no guarantee that your Personal Data will not be compromised.

Links to Other Website. This Privacy Policy applies only to Personal Data collected on the NSLA Website. The NSLA Website may contain hyperlinks to websites that are not operated by NSLA. These hyperlinks are provided for your reference and convenience only and do not imply any endorsement of the activities of these third-party websites or any association with their operators. NSLA does not control these websites and is not responsible for their data practices. We urge you to review the privacy policy posted on any website you visit before using the website or providing any Personal Data about yourself.

Questions About Our Privacy Policy. If you have any questions about this Privacy Policy or concerns about the way NSLA processes your Personal Data, please contact us at agordon@summerlearning.org.
