Doing a real estate or business transaction for your client? Do you know how you will handle any environmental issues that may come up? Not many do.

In this practical program, you will learn:

- How to start the conversation on environmental issues,
- Who you need on your “team,”
- How to retain an environmental consultant,
- What are the different types of environmental assessments, and
- What a ‘Record of Site Condition’ is and potential options if contamination is discovered on the property.
