

6th Annual
ARTICLING STUDENTS HEAD START PROGRAM

What they didn't teach you in law school: practical advice for successful articles

Wednesday, September 7, 2016

8:30 am – 12:30 pm (Registration at 8:15 am)

TLA Lawyers Lounge, 2nd floor, 361 University Avenue Courthouse

Eight months, that's your window of opportunity to prove your value to your principal or firm. Take a ½ day to learn how to lay the foundations for your career as a lawyer.

Part 1: Lawyers Telling It Like It Is: What, How and Why

8:30 am – 10:30 a.m.

Stephen Mullings, TLA President and Partner at Dutton Brock will discuss what he is looking for when working with an articling student. David Elmaleh, Associate Lawyer at McCague Borlack, will talk about what you can do to make yourself indispensable and invaluable. These 2 speakers will cover a variety of topics including communication, collaboration, managing expectations, work habits and networking. Ian Hu of LawPRO will speak on Practice Management. Light breakfast provided.

Part 2: Legal research

Joan Rataic-Lang, Executive Director/Library Director at the TLA's Court House Library will cover the methodology of legal research. Linda Zardo, Reference Librarian will set out the best sources of free research and how to research quickly, efficiently and exhaustively.

There will be several opportunities to participate in the Legal Research portion of the program:

- a. September 7th, 10:30 am - 12:30 pm, immediately following the Lawyers Tell it Like it is
- b. September 20th, 9:00 am - 11:00 am
- c. September 21st, 5:30 pm - 7:30 pm

Please indicate your choice of session on the registration form (see reverse).
