

Unclaimed Property Professionals Organization Speaker's Registry

UPPO operates and maintains a free, online, Speaker's Registry that provides the opportunity for persons who perform public speaking on the matter of unclaimed property ("Speakers"), and organizations that are wishing to engage the services of a Speaker ("Audiences"), to identify and locate each other through UPPO's website.

Persons who are interested in being listed as a Speaker on the UPPO Speaker's Registry must complete an on-line Speaker Availability Form. The on-line Availability Form contains information concerning the Speaker, including the Speaker's name and contact information, the subject matter of interest to the Speaker, and other relevant information concerning the Speaker and the potential Audience. UPPO does not represent or guarantee that a Speaker listed on the Registry will be engaged by any particular Audience, or for any minimum number of speaking engagements.

Organizations that are interested in locating a Speaker using the UPPO Speaker's Registry must complete an on-line Speaker Request Form. The on-line Request Form gathers information concerning the Audience, including the name and contact information about the Audience, the subject matter of interest to the Audience, and other relevant information concerning the Audience and the requested Speaker. UPPO does not endorse any Speaker, and does not represent or guarantee the accuracy or relevance of the information provided by a Speaker listed on the Registry. In addition, UPPO does not represent or warrant that a Speaker will meet the needs or expectations of the Audience.

UPPO does not perform background checks on any Speaker or Audience, and does not make any representations concerning the suitability of a Speaker or an Audience. UPPO does not serve as an agent or representative of any Speaker or Audience, and interested Speakers and Audiences must contact each other for purposes of determining their respective suitability, and arranging the terms and conditions under which a Speaker will provide services for the Audience.
