

Anne Costello, CPA

Anne is currently a Senior Manager in Verizon's Corporate Accounting Policy group. In her current role, Anne provides technical accounting guidance in support of various business and finance team initiatives. In addition, Anne is responsible for leading the implementation of new accounting guidance (including ASC 842, Leases), researching emerging accounting and reporting issues, and preparing and submitting comment letters on behalf of Verizon.

Prior to Verizon, Anne was the Corporate P&L manager at Phillip Van Heusen where she was responsible for supervising the month-end close process as well as budgeting and forecasting the Corporate P&L. Anne also spent 8 years at Cohn Reznick, LLP, a mid-size regional accounting firm, as a manager in the audit practice where she successfully planned, performed, and supervised audits for public and private companies in a variety of industry groups, including manufacturing and distribution, technology, food and beverage, and employee benefit plans.

Anne graduated with a Bachelors of Science degree in Accounting from the Richard Stockton College of New Jersey.
