Kudos from Past Attendees

“I came away from the conference with education that I can take into my practice as a MB nurse. Also learning what is on the horizon for nursing/MB nursing.”

“I appreciated hearing about the baby friendly hospital expectations of the near future, this was very informative. I also appreciated the high energy of the speakers.”

“I found at least one learning experience in every session to take home with me. I have been to many conferences over the course of my career, and this is the first time I can say this.”

2nd ANNual Symposium for Nurse Leaders
September 16–17, 2015
Special Program for Nurse Managers and Nurse Directors
We are thrilled to be heading back to Orlando. It’s the perfect destination to combine your education with a vacation! Plan your trip today to the Swan & Dolphin Resort at Walt Disney World. Whether it’s a trip for your family, couples, single travelers, or with friends, you’ll find so many things to do in Orlando. Orlando offers unique experiences for every visitor to ensure an unforgettable vacation. Whether that means theme parks or on the golf course, an Orlando getaway is whatever you want it to be. Search from theme parks, attractions, arts and culture, shopping, spas, golf, dining, outdoor adventures and nightlife to build your perfect itinerary. The conference hotel has a Disney ticket office on-site where you can purchase tickets in advance, and complimentary transportation is provided to Disney parks.

At this conference you’ll discover a wide variety of general and concurrent sessions to meet your educational needs. The program is designed for all levels of mother baby nurses from the novice nurse to the experienced practitioner. There is something for everyone. Explore the program below, note the renowned speakers, and see how this conference allows you to stay as cutting-edge and up-to-date as possible to provide the best care to your tiny patients. Engage with your mother baby nursing colleagues with lively poster and podium sessions. Return to your unit motivated and inspired to provide the best care to your patients and families.

We are pleased to bring back a special track for Nurse Leaders and Managers (see page 3).

See you in Orlando!

Purpose of this Conference

The purpose of this conference is to provide current and clinically applicable information for prenatal, intrapartum, and postpartum care of the mother as well as infant care, both in the hospital and through transition to home. The educational sessions provide information to nurses and other health care professionals who care for the expectant and postpartum mother and her newborn. Specific objectives for each presentation will be listed in the conference program.

Call for Abstracts

We invite you to share your knowledge and expertise with your colleagues at the 18th National Mother Baby Nurses Conference. Have you developed an innovative program, completed a research study, or provided exceptional care for a select group of neonates? Please consider developing a poster presentation to share with your colleagues from across the U.S., Canada, and abroad.

Go to academyonline.org/conferences for guidelines and submission forms. Deadline for abstract submission is July 1, 2015.

ANNual Symposyum for Nurse Leaders

This symposium includes a day and a half of management/leadership content available for 8.75 CNE credits. On the first day we have planned a special half-day workshop featuring content focused on leadership as well as opportunities to interact with other nursing leaders. On the second day, join us for the opening general session speakers at the National Mother Baby Nurses Conference in the morning, then reconvene in the afternoon for our special leadership track.

Wednesday, September 16

7:30 AM–5:30 PM
Registration Open

1:00–5:00 PM
040 New Strategies for Successful Leadership: Tips for Aspiring and Seasoned Nurse Managers and Administrators in Neonatal Settings
Laura Mahlmeister, RN, PhD

Dr. Mahlmeister describes the current challenges that new and experienced nurse managers, leaders, and administrators face in neonatal and mother-baby settings. The rise in claims of leadership negligence and criminal misconduct are discussed. Essential leadership responses to patient–family complaints, unusual occurrence reports, and sentinel events are described. Foundational skills required for today’s nurse leaders are defined. Participants are guided in the use of leadership resources including the “Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services and the Joint Commission Crosswalk.” Conditions of Participation for Hospitals in Medicare and evidence-based publications that increase the safety and efficacy of care. Electronic resources available for leaders are also identified. Attendees will have an opportunity for discussion of common leadership dilemmas during question and answer periods.

Preconference Workshops

8:00 AM–4:30 PM
010 Improving Outcomes for the Small Baby
Jenn Gonya, PhD
Erin L. Keels, MS, APRN, NNP-BC
Elizabeth Martin, MSN, RNC
Leslie Thomas, MS, APRN, NNP-BC

This preconference event will feature the Nationwide Children’s Hospital of Columbus, Ohio, Small Baby Program. Join them and learn how they used quality improvement methodology, evidence based practice, and interdisciplinary collaboration to improve short- and long term outcomes for neonates born less than 27 weeks gestation.

Thursday, September 17

Participants attend morning general sessions.

1:30–2:30 PM
115 Payment for Performance? A New Landscape
Sally Bankston, RN, BSN, MA

The national landscape around health care reform is ever changing. Ms. Bankston focuses on the shift to value-based care versus a fee-for-service model of reimbursement. The influence of patient expectations, expense management, regulatory reporting, innovation, and quality outcomes will be reviewed for their impact on the “bottom line”.

2:30–3:45 PM
Exhibits Open and Poster Viewing

3:45–4:45 PM
125 Creating a Culture of Innovation—One Hospital’s Story of Success
Karen Tilstra, PhD

This fast-paced presentation highlights Florida Hospital’s success at creating a culture of innovation through the Florida Hospital Innovation Lab (FHIL). You will hear the exciting journey of FHIL’s launch and specific examples of transformational innovation outcomes that were created in FHIL. Learn why innovation is vital to your practice and organization and how it will keep you relevant in a rapidly changing world.

Half-Day Morning Program (3.75 contact hours)

020 Neonatal Pharmacology: What Do We Need to Know and What Can We Learn?
Jennifer L. Placencia, PharmD

Our speaker discusses neonatal developmental pharmacology and pharmacokinetics as they relate to some of the most commonly used medications in the NICU and in ECMO patients. She will discuss medication use during pregnancy and lactation and the impact on the neonate. Also presented is an update on new alternative lipid therapies.

1:00–5:00 PM
Half-Day Afternoon Program (3.75 contact hours)

030 Simulation Training: Using Drills to Improve Outcomes
Cindy C. Ault, MSN, CNS-OB, C-EFM, CCNS

Simulation exercises and drills are among the most useful tools for planning, developing, testing, and evaluating responses to emergency situations requiring immediate interdisciplinary response. In this session we explore the tools and strategies available in order to improve training, evaluation tools and procedures, decision-making exercises, developing teamwork, and improving response times.

Thursday, September 17

6:45 AM–4:45 PM  Registration Open

General Sessions

6:45–7:45 AM  Breakfast selections provided by ANN
7:45–8:00 AM  Welcome/General Announcements
8:00–9:00 AM  GS 141  Defining Nursing Excellence in an Era of High Legal Risk for Mother-Baby Nurses  LIN 3 MNN 1 INF 006
Laura Mahlemeister, RN, PhD

Mother-baby nurses encounter unique legal risks and claims of negligence in the current legal climate. They also face greater scrutiny by government entities, patients and families, and health care consumer groups. Dr. Mahlemeister defines the characteristics of nursing excellence required to avert preventable adverse outcomes. Appropriate immediate responses to sentinel or “never” events are discussed, as well as essential aspects of nursing documentation. Evidence-based practices that promote positive patient outcomes are also discussed.

9:00–10:00 AM  Refreshment Break—Please visit Exhibits and Posters (Coffee, Tea)

10:00–11:00 AM  GS 142  Maternal Mortality: Lessons from the Front Lines  LIN 3 MNN 4 INF 006
Nan H. Troiano, MSN, RN-C, NE-BC

Maternal mortality remains a significant challenge in the U.S. Ms. Troiano describes the leading causes of maternal mortality through review of case study excerpts, and provides participants the opportunity to critique nursing responsiveness. Strategies to improve clinical management and reduce maternal–fetal risk of mortality and severe morbidity are identified.

11:00 AM–12:00 PM  GS 143  The Clinical/Financial Merger  LIN 3 MNN 4 INF 006
Sally Bankston, RN, BSN, MA

Getting reimbursement for our health care delivery continues to be complicated. As regulatory and insurance considerations change, and access to health care shifts, the “cost curve” will be required to turn downward. The strategies necessary to remain competitive, and provide high-quality care at less cost, is explored.

12:00–1:15 PM  Lunch—Exhibits Open and Poster Viewing

1:15–2:15 PM  A Workshops (Concurrent Sessions)

151 Pulmonary Complications During Pregnancy  LIN 1 MNN 4 INF 006
Nan H. Troiano, MSN, RN-C, NE-BC

Selected acute pulmonary complications during pregnancy are described including etiology and principles of clinical management. Through review of case study excerpts, participants will have the opportunity to interpret patient assessment findings and critique clinical nursing care.

152 Postpartum Hemorrhage  MNN 3 INF 006
Gargey M. Patil, MD, FACOG

Dr. Patil discusses the significance of obstetric hemorrhage to maternal morbidity and mortality. He explores a step-by-step approach, medical and procedural, to help reduce the occurrence of postpartum hemorrhage.

153 Is There Really a Normal Transition Period? What to Do with the Unexpected  LIN 3 MNN 5 INF 006
Tracy Karp, MS, NNP-BC

How is it that we go from being in a dark, warm, wet place to a bright light, potentially hostile environment? What are the changes that must occur for us to make that successful transition and how can we approach situations of risk or actual illness and threats. Using a safety case-based model, examine reasons and nursing care for situations that may develop during the initial transition period. Come prepared to share your own experiences.

154 The Good, the Bad, and the Ugly: Surviving Your Co-Workers!  LIN 3 MNN 4 INF 006
Sherri Lee Simons, MSN, CCRN, RNC-NIC

Have you ever felt that taking care of the patients is the easy part of your job? The real challenge comes from working with “difficult” co-workers! Come join this action-packed session and learn how to successfully deploy response tactics designed to disarm the diverse personalities/personality disorders encountered in your work environment. Much laughter and fun is included, free of charge!

2:15–3:15 PM  Refreshment Break—Please visit Exhibits and Posters (Iced Tea, Lemonade)

3:15–4:15 PM  B Workshops (Concurrent Sessions)

161 Double Trouble: The Pregnant Trauma Patient  LIN 2 MNN 4 INF 006
Judith H. Poole, PhD, MHA/MBA, RNC-OB, C-EFM, CNS

Although most injuries during pregnancy are relatively minor, 1 in 12 pregnant women sustain a significant trauma injury, making trauma the leading non-obstetric cause of maternal death. Fetal death rates, reported to be as high as 65%, are actually higher than maternal deaths secondary to trauma. This session will focus on the critical initial nursing assessment, stabilization, and continued evaluation that every perinatal nurse needs to know to support the pregnant trauma patient.

162 Top 10 Reasons to Call the Provider in the First 4 Days of Life  LIN 2 MNN 5 INF 006
Tracy Karp, MS, NNP-BC

The baby appears well after birth and has gone to be with the mother. Is something going to spring up before or soon after discharge, that might be either an annoyance or a life threatening situation? Sometimes risk factors help identify what is coming and sometimes they do not. Using a safety case-based model, examine reasons and nursing care for situations that may develop during the first four days of life after the initial transition period. Come prepared to share your own experiences.

163 Beware! You are Entering the Danger Zone of Social Media in Health Care: Creating Opportunities and Obstacles  LIN 1 MNN 4 INF 006
Sherri Lee Simons, MSN, CCRN, RNC-NIC

The use of social media and other electronic communication is expanding exponentially as the number of social media outlets, platforms, and applications available continue to increase. Individuals use blogs, social networking sites, video sites, on-line chat rooms and forums to communicate both personally and professionally with others. Social media is an exciting and valuable tool when used wisely. The very nature of this medium, however, can pose a risk as it offers instantaneous posting opportunities that allow little time for reflective thought and carries the added burden that what is posted on the Internet is discoverable by a court of law even when it is long deleted. This energetic session will leave you better armed to use social media while keeping you and others safe.

164 Establishing a Donor Human Milk Depot and Donor Human Milk Bank  LIN 2 MNN 2 INF 006
Colleen Andrew, RN BSN LCCE
Karen Kesler, RN, BSN, IBCLC

In this session, our presenters differentiate between milk depots and milk banks. Screening milk donors is discussed as well as the steps to establishing a milk bank for Florida. They explain the importance to a hospital and community of establishing donor human milk depots to act as collection facilities for donor human milk banks. The process of opening a donor human milk depot will be explained as well as the benefits and challenges that accompany this endeavor.

7:45–8:00 AM  Announcements

General Sessions

8:00–9:00 AM
GS 241  New Hypertensive Guidelines for Pregnancy: Clinical Issues and Practice Updates  LRN1 MNN1 INP-OB3
Judith H. Poole, PhD, MHA/MBA, RNC-OB, CEFM, CNS
Keeping up-to-date on the literature surrounding perinatal nursing care can be an overwhelming task for any nurse. Most recently, the American College of Obstetricians and Gynecologists assembled a group of experts in the management of hypertension in pregnancy and developed updated, evidence-based recommendations for clinical practice. These recommendations, along with those from the California Collaborative and other best practices are explored.

9:00–10:30 AM  Refreshment Break—Last Chance to Visit Exhibits (Coffee, Tea)

10:30–11:30 AM
GS 242  Making Rapid Response a Reality  LRN4 MNN4 INP-OB6
Cindy C. Ault, MSN, CNS-OB, CEFM, CCNS
Ms. Ault explores the options available in order to bridge the gap between Hospital-Wide Rapid Response Teams and the needs/hurdles associated with working in a perinatal environment.

11:30 AM–12:30 PM
GS 243  Real Delivery: A Practical Approach to the Application of NRP  LRN3 MNN3 INP-OB5
Hilton M. Bernstein, MD
Dr. Bernstein uses the current NRP guidelines to illustrate its practical use in various perinatal settings, including the labor and delivery and mother baby settings. Through the review of evidence-based practice and sample case reviews, participants leave this session better prepared to care for the assessment and support of newborns within their respective units.

12:30–1:45 PM  Lunch on your own

1:45–2:45 PM  C Workshops (Concurrent Sessions)

251  Intrapartum Emergencies: Fetal Monitoring Case Studies  MNN1 INP-OB1
Judith H. Poole, PhD, MHA/MBA, RNC-OB, CEFM, CNS
Labor and delivery nurses need to be able to recognize fetal heart patterns that signal the presence of developing acidemia and the potential of an acute obstetric complication (such as placental abruption or uterine rupture) that can quickly lead to fetal asphyxia. Early identification of these FHR patterns, and immediate intervention to improve oxygenation or expedite birth, may help improve neonatal outcomes. This engaging workshop examines interesting cases through the lens of actual fetal monitor strips and discussion.

252  Out of the Dark: Bringing Perinatal Mood Disorders to Light  MNN4 INP-OB4
June Vinyard, RN, BSN
The goal of our speaker is to increase the overall awareness of perinatal mood disorders for professional health care providers. Ms. Vinyard explores the risk factors and treatment options. Included in the discussion is an overview of the Perinatal Mood Disorders Program at The Women’s Health Pavilion at Florida Hospital Tampa.

253  Breastfeeding and Maternal Medications  MNN4 INP-OB4
Patricia Mullen, ARNP, NNP-BC, IBCLC, RLC
It is a common myth that any medication taken by a mother is passed into her breast milk. Nurses caring for mothers and their infants must be able to find correct and evidence-based information regarding maternal medications in order to preserve the breastfeeding relationship and minimize unnecessary wasting of breast milk.

2:45–3:45 PM  Interactive Poster Session

400  High Reliability in Health Care: Would Your Unit Make Walt Disney Proud?  LRN5 MNN4 INP-OB4
Kelley Shultz, MD
Explore with Dr. Shultz what “High Reliability in Health Care” means, understand why it matters to our patients, and learn about how you can achieve this in your facility and specifically in your unit.

9:15–10:15 AM
GS 342  Panel Discussion: Best Practices for Infants with NAS and their Mothers  LRN3 MNN3 INP-OB3
Aaron M. Germain, MD
Denise Maguire, PhD, RN, CNL
Julie Long, RN, BSN, RNC-NIC
Substance use among pregnant women and the care of their infants remain forefront in the minds of perinatal and neonatal professionals. Our panel members present information on best practice for pharmacologic management of neonatal abstinence syndrome (NAS), interactions between mothers and their infants, and nursing perspective on NAS. Conference participants have the opportunity to ask questions during this moderated panel discussion.

10:15–10:30 AM  Refreshment Break

10:30–11:30 AM
GS 343  Perinatal and Neonatal Ethics: The Role of Ethics in Preventing Mental Distress  LRN5 MNN4 INP-OB6
Patricia S. Robinson, PhD, APRN, NE-BC, CCRP
Dr. Robinson provides a review of clinical ethics, followed by a discussion of the role ethical analysis can play in preventing or reducing moral distress in clinicians. Clinical scenarios will be used to demonstrate the effects clear communication can have to improve the health of the work environment.

11:30 AM–12:30 PM
GS 344  Inspired Nurse  LRN5 MNN4 INP-OB6
Rich Bluni, RN
Few other professions afford the opportunity to impact lives on such a profound level, not only physically but emotionally and spiritually as well. Yet the same qualities that make nursing so deeply rewarding can also make it a challenge, over time, to sustain your energy and passion. Inspired Nurse helps us maintain and recapture those elusive qualities. Nurses must also take care of “self” in order to be able to do the challenging physical, emotional, and intellectual work that it takes to serve others. In this thought-provoking and inspirational presentation, Rich Bluni reminds nurses, and all of those in health care, why we chose this profession.
