RESOURCES

Medicaid ACO Learning Collaborative Tool

States interested in using an accountable care organization (ACO) model for Medicaid populations must think critically about which metrics are best-suited to promote enhanced access and care coordination, as well as encourage provider accountability for these outcomes.

This technical assistance tool, a product of Center for Health Care Strategies' Medicaid ACO Learning Collaborative and made possible through support from The Commonwealth Fund, outlines the quality measurement approaches of eight states — Maine, Massachusetts, Minnesota, New Jersey, Oregon, Rhode Island, Utah, and Vermont — to inform states developing ACO programs.

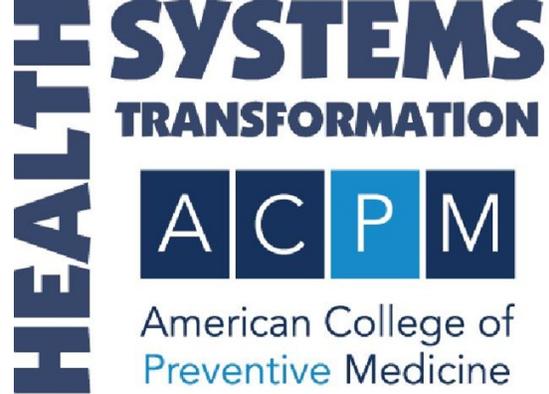

ABOUT ACPM HEALTH SYSTEMS TRANSFORMATION PROJECT

Learn More & Get Involved

ACPM defines Health Systems Transformation (HST) as a systems-based approach to improving population, community and individual health by incorporating the determinants of health and increasing the efficiency and effectiveness of healthcare.

The Health Systems Transformation Project is from a cooperative agreement that ACPM has with the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention.
