Day 4: Rio Sarapiqui II

Day 5: Upper Upper Pacuare

Day 6: Lower Pacuare Day 1

Day 7: Lower Pacuare Day 2

Day 8: Airport or San Jose Hotel Dropoff

We start out at the Rio Pejibaye, a calm jungle river with clear water and spectacular scenery. This river is an excellent introduction to Costa Rican whitewater with two distinct sections. The Lower Pejibaye is class II/III with fun surf waves and deep pools for practice. The Upper Pejibaye or Taos section is class III/IV with creek like features and steeper rapids. Both are equally scenic and allow plenty of time to get warmed up for the upcoming week.

On day 3 we travel to the Sarapiquí River, located on the north side of the Caribbean slope. The Sarapiquí is often referred to as the "Jewel of Costa Rica" with clear water, deep pools and excellent whitewater. We will spend two days here on the different sections. There are 3 distinct sections on this river that we paddle, generally the more difficult whitewater is located upstream while the lower sections provide fantastic opportunities to practice and improve in the warm tropical water and sunshine. Paddlers sometimes have a difficult time with this section of river because they are so distracted by the beautiful scenery. Tonight we will lodge in the town of Puerto Viejo Sarapiquí, close to the river, enjoying a jungle setting and the use of a swimming pool.

Mid-week we drive to the remote and absolutely beautiful mountains of the Pacuare headwaters. This rarely paddled section of river starts with class II and III rapids and progresses in difficulty as we continue downstream.

Day 5 sees us entering the famous Lower Pacuare. Paddling this 21 mile, class III/IV section is your paddling gem for the next two days. This is the most popular run on the Pacuare, often said to be one of the top five river sections in the world. We will put-in a bit higher than other groups and enjoy some additional whitewater and rapids as we paddle to our riverside Jungle Lodge. To spend a night along the shores of the Pacuare river is an experience every person should enjoy at least once in their lives. We light the camp with candles and prepare delicious tropical cuisine in our kitchen with all amenities. The camp is complete with flush toilets, showers, raised platform cabins with real beds and fully landscaped grounds. The whitewater on the first day is class

II and III, fun surf waves and rolling rapids are abound. The second day is longer and harder with some warm-up rapids before we enter Huacas canyon and the first of several class IV rapids. The river then opens up as we play and paddle mostly class III whitewater until Cimarrones, a steep and technical class IV drop. There are still several more miles of whitewater action before we arrive in the Caribbean flatland town of Siquirres where we take out.

Proposed Dates: We have some flexibility in dates. For a good water level and sunshine combination we suggest late May, 2012 or September 2012.

Price: $ 1699 per person - twin share. If a single traveler wants a private single room there is a $300 single supplement. We will endeavor to match up same gender travelers to share accommodation.

All travelers must have some whitewater paddling experience and be competent in a canoe or kayak, otherwise they can join the week and paddle in a raft with a guide. To join the trip, guests will need to call with a Visa, Mastercard or Amex and pay a 50% deposit. The balance will be due on arrival at the beginning of the trip. We will provide a detailed packing list for confirmed clients. Clients will be responsible for booking their own international air travel. Group maximum is 12 paddlers. There is also a non-paddling partners itinerary to complement the Week of Rivers.
