

Participant Directory

Venu AggarwalAcumen - vaggarwal@acumen.org

Venu works with the Impact Team at Acumen. Her work focuses on assessing and optimizing the social impact of Acumen investees in their Latin America and global portfolios, and finding rigorous, cost-effective ways to do this. Just before joining Acumen, she completed a master's degree in public affairs at the Woodrow Wilson School, Princeton University. She holds a Bachelor of Science (Hons) in Mathematics from St. Stephen's College, Delhi University.

Lucia AlcantaraFutures Today Consulting - lucia@futurestodayconsulting.com

I am passionate about adult learning and organizational growth. Learning communities bring us closer together whether it is in a rural community in Latin America or a university classroom in North America. Since 2003 I have served as President and Founder of Futures Today Consulting. My doctoral research at Columbia University is based on knowledge production amongst social change agents in collaborative inquiry groups. I also hold a Masters degree in Higher Education Administration from Baruch College. New York City is home base.

Manuel Andrade AparicioILUMEXICO- mandrade@ilumexico.mx

Studied Sustainable Development Engineering in one of Mexico's top universities. Worked for P&G in the Sourcing Department before leaving for Switzerland to work in Intellectual Property at CEMEX. Passionate about operations and branch management, logistics and social initiatives in general. Joined ILUMEXICO in July 2014.

Denise BaerCenter for International Private Enterprise - dbaer@cipe.org

Denise Baer is the Evaluation Officer for the Center for International Private Enterprise. As CIPE's principal internal expert on evaluation, she conducts evaluation research and other assessments of CIPE programs. Baer holds a B.A. from the University of Illinois and earned her Ph.D. in political science from Southern Illinois University-Carbondale. She is a member of the American and International Political Science Associations, American Evaluation Association, and the National Press Club and serves on the board of the National Women's History Project.

Peter BlairResults for Development (R4D) - pblair@r4d.org

Project manager with experience working in West Africa, Asia, and the Middle East in conflict resolution, democracy, and international development.

Susan BornsteinLand O'Lakes, Inc. - sgbornstein@landolakes.com

Susan Bornstein joined Land O' Lakes in 2014 as the Director of Practice Areas and Strategic Partnerships for Land O'Lakes International Development. Susan leads a team of technical experts that provides support to projects, new business development and thought leadership. She has a Master's Degree in International Transactions (Africa trade) from George Mason University and a Bachelor's Degree in International Studies from Michigan State University.

Amanda BoyekHult Prize Foundation - amanda.boyek@hultprize.org

As Director of Hult Prize @, the program bringing the Hult Prize competition directly to university campuses all around the world, Amanda is responsible for the entire program from recruiting to support and managing over 75 students campus directors around the world.

Alex BuerkleELMA Philanthropies - abuerkle@elmaphilanthropies.org

As an Associate Program Officer at ELMA Philanthropies, Alex identifies, conducts due diligence on, and develops grants and investments for Africa-based social enterprises and businesses in their growth phase. Alex volunteers on the board of Net Impact NYC, where she leads pro bono consulting and board service programs and launched Kiva Zip Trusteeship for social enterprise lending. She is a StartingBloc Fellow and holds a BA from Cornell University.

Ellen CareyThe GIIN - ecarey@thegiin.org

Ellen Carey serves as a Manager at the Global Impact Investing Network (GIIN), a not-for-profit organization dedicated to increasing the scale and effectiveness of impact investing. Ellen is responsible for developing IRIS, the catalog of generally accepted metrics used to measure social, environmental, and financial performance of organizations. Ellen holds a BA in Applied Math and Economics and an MSc in Economics, both from Johns Hopkins University.

Elaine ChangGrameen Foundation - echang@grameenfoundation.org

Elaine is the Manager for Global Market Development of TaroWorks - Grameen Foundation's mobile data management tool. With 7 years of experience in market research and client analytics, she has dedicated her career to improving organizational outcomes through data. At Grameen Foundation, Elaine is working to enable social enterprises to alleviate poverty through data. Her focus is to scale TaroWorks to enable poverty-focused organizations to better alleviate poverty and deliver impact. Elaine holds degrees from New York University and the University of Michigan.

Fardeen ChowdhuryOPIC - FARDEEN.CHOWDHURY@OPIC.GOVAnna De La CruzLinked Foundation - annaryork@gmail.com

Anna De La Cruz is an independent consultant, advising the Linked Foundation on its portfolio strategy and social impact measures. Her expertise and passion is in evaluating and improving upon innovative market solutions to poverty. She received a Master's in Public Administration with a focus on International Policy from New York University, and a Bachelor's in International Studies from the University of Washington.

Valentina Di FeliceWomanity Foundation - valentina.difelice@gmail.com

I joined the Womanity Foundation in 2010 as program manager in charge of designing, and supervising a number of the foundation's projects. I am in charge of designing metrics for the project I manage and assessing results. I graduated in Media and Communication from the Alma Mater Studiorum University of Bologna as well as in the management of international and non-profit organizations (International Organization MBA) from the University of Geneva

Natalie FedorsSmall Enterprise Assistance Funds (SEAF) - nfedors@seaf.com

Natalie Lyon Fedors is Operations Director and Chief Compliance Officer at SEAF. Natalie has been with SEAF since 2010 and is responsible for overseeing administration, compliance, environmental, social and governance, investment reporting, policies and procedures, systems, and training. Natalie graduated from the University of Colorado summa cum laude with a BA in Economics and International Affairs. She earned a MA from Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies in International Relations with a concentration in Development Finance.

CJ FonziDalberg Global Development Advisors - cj.fonzi@dalberg.com

CJ is a Senior Project Manager in Dalberg's New York office. His experience spans a range of development issues including Impact investing, SME finance and support, and impact measurement. CJ joined Dalberg from the Global Impact Investing Network (GIIN) where he served as Manager, Impact Reporting and Investment Standards (IRIS). In this role CJ led the development of the IRIS 2.0 standards, worked closely with 30 impact investors to collect their social performance data, and authored the first IRIS data report-Data Driven.

Tara FordeGlobal Partnerships - tmurphy@globalpartnerships.org

Tara joined Global Partnerships (GP) in January 2009 and leads strategic initiatives and impact evaluation efforts. Tara has a rich background of academic and professional experience in the areas of poverty, gender and conflict. Tara holds a B.A. in political science from Vassar College and certificate in executive leadership from the Albers School of Business at Seattle University.

Erica FrenkelGradian Health Systems - efrenkel@gradianhealth.org

Erica has managed programs in global health and economic development for over ten years. Before joining Gradian, Erica served as a Peace Corps volunteer in El Salvador, managed the Global Media AIDS Initiative for the Kaiser Family Foundation and helped shape public health initiatives as a consultant for the Clinton Health Access Initiative, the Liberian Ministry of Health, Merck Vaccines and the Wellcome Trust. Erica holds an MPA in Development Studies from Princeton University's Woodrow Wilson School and a B.A. in History from the University of Pennsylvania.

Andres GanemReforestamos Mexico, A.C. - andres@reforestamosmexico.org

I am a graduate in Environmental Sciences and have worked in Reforestamos Mexico since april 2013 as a Project Manager. I am responsible for managing over 25 projects related to the forestry sector, in all areas of the sector.

Peter GreenwoodTriLinc Global - pgreenwood@trilincglobal.com

Peter Greenwood serves as an Impact Analyst for TriLinc Global, with responsibility for supporting the impact activities of the Company and its affiliates. Peter earned a MBA from the Universidad de los Andes, a Master in Public and International Affairs from the University of Pittsburgh, and graduated magna cum laude from the University of Minnesota Duluth with a BA in International Studies and Foreign Languages.

Loren GuerrieroMercy Corps (MicroMentor) - loren@micromentor.org

Loren is responsible for the customer experience on MicroMentor. He discovers needs through user research, and designs solutions to customer problems. MicroMentor's product is delivered through a mix of platform design and educational content, as well as live support and training. With an educational background in Psychology, Loren has contributed to diverse causes with volunteer coordination, process improvement, and marketing. Outside of MicroMentor, Loren also practices User Experience and website design.

Jeremie GuetDepartment of Foreign Affairs, Trade and Development Canada - jeremie.guet@international.gc.ca

Statistical Analyst involved in the reporting of international assistance data through the OECD and other open data standards, such as IATI.

Neal HarrisonGlobal Social Benefit Institute at Santa Clara University - nharrison@scu.edu

Neal Harrison has eight years experience working on social innovation, entrepreneurship, impact investment and supply chain management in the U.S., the U.K., Canada and Ghana.

Elizabeth HoeffckerMIT D-Lab - ehm@mit.edu

Elizabeth manages the research program of the International Development Innovation Network, based at MIT's D-Lab, where she is leading research studies focused on the role that community-based innovation plays in sustainable local and regional development. She received her Masters from MIT's Department of Urban Studies and Planning, International Development Group and her BA with high honors from Wesleyan University's College of Social Studies.

Kevin HongMercy Corps - khong@mercycorps.org

Kevin Hong is an M&E Advisor at Mercy Corps, working with the Skoll/USAID Innovation Investment Alliance to assist with the due diligence of potential investments, provide support to build M&E capacity among investee organizations, and manage impact evaluations. He also works with the MEL unit to provide technical assistance as needed. He holds a Master in International Affairs from the School of International and Public Affairs, Columbia University and graduated from Cornell University with summa cum laude in computational and systems biology.

Jinsol HwangAgora Partnerships - jhwang@agorapartnerships.org

CEO, The Bridge(Global Social Enterprise), Seoul, Korea; Senior Consultant, Eco-Frontier, Seoul, Korea; Consultant, CSR Group, Texas, USA; Staff, UN Global Compact, Seoul, Korea; Intern, UN Development Program, Beijing, China.

Sara JacobsDepartment of State - sjacobs2189@gmail.com

Sara currently works in the Bureau of Conflict and Stabilization at the U.S. Department of State. Prior to this, she worked in the UNICEF Innovation Unit and the UN Department of Peacekeeping Operations. She has a Masters degree in International Affairs from Columbia, where she also attended undergraduate, majoring in political science.

Amanda JacobsonVillage Capital - amanda@vilcap.com

Amanda currently supports VilCap in Partnerships and Impact Metrics, and previously ran both Boston Health and Mexico FinTech programs, the Mexico program the first ever launched in Spanish-speaking LATAM. Prior to VilCap, Amanda was an IDEX Fellow in Social Enterprise with the Sankalp Forum in Mumbai, creating a finance pipeline and managing workshops for high impact startups. Amanda earned her degree from the Goizueta Business School of Emory University, where she double-majored in Business and Psychology, with a concentration in Strategy and Management Consulting and a course emphasis in Social Enterprise.

Aditya JagatiThe GIIN - ajagati@thegiin.org

Aditya is a first year student in the Master of Arts in Law and Diplomacy at the Tufts Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, and is currently working as a summer associate with the IRIS team of the Global Impact Investing Network. His areas of focus are development economics and international business relations with an aim to harness the private sector for sustainable development. Aditya earned a B.A. (Honors) in economics from University of Delhi, after which he worked for four years as an economist/strategist with the Global Markets division of the Hongkong and Shanghai Banking Corporation in India specializing in Asian currency markets.

Frederick KellettAga Khan Foundation - angel.njenga@akdn.orgMarissa KimseySSG Advisors - marissa@ssg-advisors.com

Brings three years of experience in international development and social science research. Holds an MPhil in Development Studies from the University of Cambridge.

Emma KlingensteinVillage Capital - emma.klingenstein@vilcap.com

I started my career as a youth worker at Higher Achievement, running afternoon and summer programming for middle school aged youth from underserved communities. I went on to lead part of our volunteer program, recruiting and managing a team of 85 mentors. I transitioned to Village Capital as our EdTech associate and am interested in learning more about how to measure/assess the impact of the companies we're working with.

Greg LarsonU.S. Treasury Department - gregory.larson@treasury.gov

Office of Multilateral Development Banks (MDBs)

Yennie LeeIDEO.org - yennie@ideo.org

Yennie is responsible for stewarding the measurement and evaluation of IDEO.org's completed projects and its learning platform. She is interested in building tools that evidence early data for pilots and implementation of IDEO.org's prototypes and designs. Before filling this role, she was a member of the Amplify program, supporting its finance, operations, and impact. She received her undergraduate degree in Sociology from the University of Chicago.

Kendra LeithMIT D-Lab - kleith@mit.edu

Kendra is the Evaluation Manager for MIT D-Lab. Kendra joined D-Lab in 2006 and worked on charcoal-related projects, organized the International Development Design Summit, and led student trips to India before starting her master's degree in City Planning at MIT in 2007. After graduating from MIT in 2009, she joined the Institute for International Urban Development as a Research Associate. She returned to D-Lab in 2011 to help shape and oversee user and market research for D-Lab Scale-Ups projects and the monitoring and evaluation for D-Lab. In 2013, she also began working for the Comprehensive Initiative for Technology Evaluation (CITE) at MIT.

Heather LeMunyonACDI/VOCA - hlemunyon@acdivoca.org

Heather is a Senior Technical Coordinator in ACDI/VOCA's Partnerships and Investment group. She is a recent graduate of Tufts University, with a Masters degree in international development.

Michael McCrelessRoot Capital - mmccreless@rootcapital.org

Mike oversees Root Capital's impact assessment and social & environmental due diligence, and is active in sharing Root Capital's learning via writing and industry groups. He also facilitates long-term and annual strategic planning and organizational development. He previously consulted for Monitor Company and conducted research for Harvard Business School professor Michael Porter. Mike holds an M.B.A. and an M.P.A. from Harvard University and a B.A. from Yale University.

Kate McNamaraSoros Economic Development Fund - kate.mcnamara@opensocietyfoundations.org

Kate McNamara works on financial inclusion program related investments in West Africa with a particular focus on Ghana and Liberia. She holds a Masters in International and Development Economics from Yale University where she studied in the Economic Growth Center of the University's Department of Economics. She received her Bachelors of Arts Cum Laude from Barnard College, Columbia University where she majored in Political Science and completed minors in Economics and Religion.

Naki MendozaDevex - naki.mendoza@devex.com

Reporter for Devex Impact covering the intersection of business and international development.

Satyan MishraDrishtee - satyan@drishtee.com

Satyan Mishra believes in the sustainability of communities, wherever they still exist, as a pre-requisite to world peace and growth of human civilisation. He defines a community as a group of families, staying together and interdependant on each other economically, socially and culturally. Satyan is an MBA, an Ashoka fellow and the Co-founder and Managing Director of Drishtee. He believes that the way to sustainability of villages is through knowledge and skill for harnessing local resources and igniting the entrepreneurial spirit, self reliance in provisioning of basic services, livelihood generation and developing local infrastructure are the three pillars of sustainability.

Fulvia MoralesBanamex / Fomento Social - fulvia.morales@citi.com*Amanda Muncil*Small Enterprise Assistance Funds (SEAF) - amuncil@seaf.com

Mitigate and analyze environmental/social/governance risks of potential and current portfolio companies.

Pete MurphyThe GIIN -*Tomohiro Nagasaki*Business Call to Action - tomohiro.nagasaki@undp.org

Tomohiro Nagasaki is the Impact Team Lead of Business Call to Action, where he leads initiatives on impact measurement of inclusive businesses. Tomo is also a co-author of BCTA's flagship report Breaking Through (2014) on inclusive business and contributes articles on social impact to Guardian Sustainable Business. Tomo holds a master's degree in International Business and Development Economics from The Fletcher School at Tufts University where he was a Fulbright Scholar, and a B.A. in International Relations from International Christian University in Tokyo.

Krishma Nayee

what3words Ltd - krishma@what3words.com

Lead the Humanitarian & Development activities for what3words.

Shashi Neerukonda

Synergos - sneerukonda@synergos.org; shashi.neerukonda@gmail.com

Shashi Neerukonda is Manager, Middle East and North Africa (MENA). She joined Synergos in August 2011 and in her position manages Synergos' network of social entrepreneurs in the Middle East through delivering technical support and facilitating convenings as well as manage partnerships, design and implement monitoring and evaluation for the MENA programs, and contribute to the creation of new programs for the department. Shashi holds a BA in Anthropology from Haverford College.

Angel Njenga

Aga Khan Foundation - angel.njenga@akdn.org

Angel Njenga is a 2014-15 Impact Investing Fellow at AKF USA. Most recently, Angel served as the Head Admission Ambassador at the University of Southern California Office of Admission. She also previously worked at the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania Office of Trade and Investment in Taipei, Taiwan. Angel received her bachelor's degree in International Relations with a minor in French from the University of Southern California.

Rebecca Obara

Vox Capital - rebecca@voxcapital.com.br

Rebecca is the Social Impact Head of Vox Capital. After graduating in Production Engineering at Campinas State University (UNICAMP), she got into Vox to help the team to monitor the financial and operational performance of the companies invested by the fund, and to prospect new companies to the fund pipeline. Currently, she devotes her time to develop activities to maximize the impact of companies invested by Vox Capital and to measure it. Rebecca also study in universities as California Polytechnique University and Instituto Superior Technico, in Lisbon.

Amanda Osborne

British Council - amanda.osborne@britishcouncil.org

Amanda Osborne graduated from American University in 2012 with a BA in International Relations. She has previously served in various roles at the U.S. Department of Education, the U.S. House of Representatives, and at the United Nations Foundation. Currently she is the Partnerships Officer at the British Council based out of New York City.

Dan Osusky

B Lab -

Justin Otero

Dev Equity - justineo@devequity.com

Justin is an experienced professional in the field of social development and environmental sustainability in Latin America. He currently serves as an Impact Manager with Dev Equity, an innovative social investment fund, where he is responsible for supporting the growth of commercially viable enterprises that make a positive social and environmental impact in Latin America. Justin earned his BA from the University of Massachusetts at Amherst in Economics and Spanish and graduated from Columbia University's School of International Public Affairs with an MA in International Affairs in Energy, Environment and Latin America. He has lived and worked in Central and South America, and is fluent in Spanish and Portuguese.

Liana Paris

Root Cause - lparis@rootcause.org

As the Practice Manager, Liana guides the implementation of Root Cause Consulting's ongoing efforts to take its client services and products to the next level while making Root Cause a great place to work. She also continues to enjoy managing client engagements and to date has contributed to the success of more than two dozen funders, intermediaries, and non-profits in the education, health, and human rights sectors. Liana was a Rotary International Ambassadorial Scholar at the University of Jordan in Amman and completed the Programme International at Sciences Po Paris. She speaks French, Portuguese, and Arabic.

Julie PeacheyGrameen Foundation - jpeachey@grameenfoundation.org

Julie currently leads the Social Performance Management team at Grameen Foundation, focused on scaling a leading poverty measurement tool, the Progress out of Poverty Index (PPI). Julie is a cross-cultural team leader with 20 years of business and non-profit experience. As an MBA/CPA with a strong background in program implementation, enterprise development, change leadership, and social entrepreneurship, she has a flair for project management in complex environments.

Santiago PerezB Lab - sperez@bcorporation.net

Santiago Perez is an Analytics Associate at B Lab, the certifying body of B Corporations. He works primarily on B Analytics, a portfolio management tool for funds and investors designed to drive capital to enterprises that generate positive social and environmental impact. Santiago is the founder and board member of the Community Alliance Network (CAN), a nonprofit that helps survivors of gender based violence in rural Kenya by providing legal, medical and psychological support in order to attain justice and healing.

Sean PetersEntrepreneurship Database, Emory University - srhpeters@gmail.com

Sean Peters is Program Director of the Entrepreneurship Database at Goizueta Business School, Emory University. This research initiative focuses on entrepreneur accelerators around the world, with an aim to better understand what factors have the greatest impact on entrepreneurial growth - they are currently tracking over 3500 entrepreneurs and working with over 55 accelerator programs. Sean was a previous co-founder of Global Catalyst Initiative, a small experimental fund working with high-growth social ventures in Kenya and Uganda, and also a co-founder of RADIUS Ventures, a Vancouver-based impact accelerator.

Anita RamachandranMercy Corps - anita@micromentor.org

Anita drives MicroMentor's US and global business development efforts and cultivates partnerships with corporations interested in establishing and growing their employee engagement programs. She also works with NGOs, institutions and foundations supporting entrepreneurship globally. She manages all marketing, PR and communication efforts. She is also the co-founder and held a leadership role for 15 years at a local non-profit, SAWERA that assists South Asian women and children affected by domestic violence since 1997.

Narasimha RaoInternational Institute for Applied Systems Analysis - nrao@iiasa.ac.at

Dr. Narasimha D. Rao's research examines the relationship between energy access, human development and climate change. He is the recipient of the European Research Council (ERC) Starting Grant (2015-2018) for a project entitled Decent Living Energy - energy and emissions thresholds for providing decent living standards for all. Dr. Narasimha D. Rao obtained his PhD from Stanford University, California, in the Emmett Interdisciplinary Program in Environment and Resources (E-IPER). Dr. Rao has previous Master's degrees in electrical engineering and technology policy from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Arjun ReddyGlobal Impact Investing Network - areddy@thegiin.org

Arjun Reddy serves as Technology Manager, guiding the growth and development of the IRIS data infrastructure and technology platform. He also supports other GIIN initiatives in designing, evaluating, and implementing technical solutions to support internal operations and programmatic needs. Over the course of his career, Arjun has held technical leadership positions in a number of industries, including enterprise software, energy, and financial services. Arjun holds a BS in Electrical and Computer Engineering and a BA in Economics from Rice University.

Teri RichterAllan Gray Orbis Foundation - terir@allangrayorbis.org

Teri Richter obtained her Masters degree in Organisational Psychology specialising in Programme Evaluation in 2009 at the University of Cape Town and completed her Post Graduate Diploma in Business Administration in 2015 at the University of Cape Town Graduate School of Business. Through her role in Business Intelligence, Teri strives to provide meaningful evidence based data to inform strategic business decision making.

Kate RistrophUnited States African Development Foundation - kristroph@usadf.gov

Ms. Ristroph has worked for ten years in the development of small enterprises and financial institutions, through the public and private sectors.

Kelly RobbinsEnclude - krobbins@encludesolutions.com

Kelly Robbins is Special Projects Lead at Enclude, building tools for assessing best practices in financial institution relations with women clients and developing internal outcomes management and strategy practices.

Juan Carlos RodriguezUSAID -*Stephen Rosenlund*Center for International Private Enterprise - srosenlund@cipe.org

Stephen Rosenlund is a Program Officer at CIPE, where he manages programs in the Middle East designed to strengthen the private sector's role in democracy. His portfolio includes initiatives focused on business association development, anti-corruption, corporate governance, entrepreneurship ecosystem-building, public-private dialogue, coalition advocacy, and economic think tank development. He served for five years as an officer in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's (JAG) Corps. He received his B.A. in Political Science from the George Washington University and his J.D. from the George Washington University Law School and is a member of the Virginia State Bar.

Faina RozentalRoot Capital - frozental@rootcapital.org

Faina manages social due diligence metrics and supports on initiatives related to social and environmental performance management and its relation to programmatic strategy. Previously, she worked as a sales and training officer for the Organization for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD) in Washington, D.C. Faina holds an M.A. in economics and a B.A. in economics and international relations from Boston University.

Maria Santos ValentinOpen Society Foundations -*Suba Sivakumaran*Business Call to Action*Neil Buddy Shah*IDinsight - neil.buddy.shah@idinsight.org

Dr. Neil Buddy Shah is CEO and co-founder at IDinsight, a client-service organization that helps developing country governments, NGOs and social businesses make socially impactful decisions by using rigorous evidence. IDinsight's core service makes rigorous impact evaluation demand-driven, affordable and timely, so that policymakers and social sector managers can use it as a practical decision-making tool. Dr. Shah holds a B.A. in economics from Harvard University, an M.D. with special distinction in global health policy from Albert Einstein College of Medicine, and an M.P.A.-International Development from Harvard Kennedy School of Government. He has represented IDinsight as an Echoing Green Fellow, and was named one of Forbes Magazine's top 30 under 30 social entrepreneurs around the world.

Joe ShamashDFID Impact Programme - joe@spandevdevelopment.co.uk

Independent consultant with a focus on monitoring, evaluation and technical assistance for inclusive businesses in developing and emerging markets. Current work includes results framework design and management for impact investment funds in Sub Saharan Africa and South Asia.

Angela ShartrandVentureWell - ashartrand@venturewell.org

Angela joined VentureWell in 2005, and oversees VentureWell's research and evaluation initiatives, which include the evaluation of training for innovation teams developing solutions for U.S. and non-U.S. markets. Prior to VentureWell, she worked with the Boston

Women's Fund and the Harvard Family Research Project. She earned a Ph.D. in Applied Developmental and Educational Psychology from Boston College, an Ed.M. from Harvard University and a B.A. from Williams College.

Unmesh Sheth

SoPact/Ekta - usheth@gmail.com

I am a founder of a social enterprise, SoPact (<http://SoPact.com>) & co-founder of a non-profit, Ekta (<http://ekta.org>). SoPact is a personal vision that has grown from 25 years in technology, management and the social sector. I have dedicated many years to my passion and purpose for unleashing the potential of the social sector, and SoPact has been designed with this mission in mind. We can together drive long-term sustainable change, and the most effective way to accomplish this is through better measurement, data and communication. Thus, SoPact has been designed as an innovative and transformative solution for scaling social sector businesses and investments, and better supporting our beneficiaries.

Hetal Sheth

SoPact -

Meredith Shull

Fomento Social Banamex, A.C. - meredith.schull@citi.com

Meredith has a dual MA degree in Sustainable International Development and Coexistence and Conflict from Brandeis University with a BA in International Studies from Ohio University. After a brief time teaching English in Mexico, she went back to the US to complete her MA and now forms part of the evaluation team for projects of social impact at Fomento Social Banamex in Mexico City, Mexico.

Anton Simanowitz

The Business of Doing Good - antowitz@outlook.com

For 20 years Anton Simanowitz has supported microfinance organisations and social enterprises to be more effective in delivering positive change. At SEF, a South African microfinance organisation, he led the re-engineering of operations to deepen poverty outreach and impact. At a sector level Anton led a consortium of 12 organisations that developed the content and training materials for what has now become the Universal Standards for Social Performance Management in microfinance. At social investor Oikocredit he designed and managed a mentoring programme implemented in 10 countries to support investee social performance. Anton is now Director of The Business of Doing Good, a consultancy that works to improve outcomes for microfinance and other social businesses.

Morgan Simon

Pi Investments - morgan.simon@gmail.com

Co-lead a 100% impact investment approach across asset classes for a single family focused on community empowerment and environmental sufficiency

Emmanuel Smadja

MPOWER Financing, Public Benefit Corporation - manu@mpowerfinancing.com

Ex-McKinsey consultant turned entrepreneur in the Fintech / Financial Inclusion space.

Sarah Sterling

Pomona Impact - sarahmichellesterling@gmail.com

Sarah Sterling is a highly committed, motivated, and passionate individual in any project in which she involves herself. Through her extensive travels and work throughout Latin America, Madagascar, and Europe as well as during her service as a Peace Corps volunteer (El Salvador 2010 - 2012), Sarah was able to gain an advanced level of Spanish speaking skills as well as to learning to work with people from different cultures, languages, and socio-economic backgrounds. Sarah is not afraid to get her hands dirty (literally) in the field and loves to be challenged on a daily basis. Her skills in project development and management, logistics, fundraising, outreach, and overall charisma allow her to work effectively in any organization in the areas of community and international development.

Zeeshan Sumrani

Educate Girls - zeeshan.sumrani@educategirls.in

I head the Program and Impact functions at Educate Girls and work with the Executive Director of the organization to create the strategic vision of the organization's programmatic goals, outcomes and Impact assessment. I am also responsible for the effective management and supervision of all program and Impact related activities across all Educate Girls geographical locations. I have been a part of the development sector in India since the past decade both as a professional and as a volunteer.

Evan Tachovsky

Media Development Investment Fund - evan.tachovsky@mdif.org

Evan Tachovsky is the Impact Officer at Media Development Investment Fund (MDIF) where he manages the organization's data analysis and visualization projects. Prior to joining MDIF, he managed media training and research programs in the Middle East for IREX, completed a Fulbright Fellowship in Azerbaijan and worked in journalism in Turkey. Evan holds an MA in quantitative methodology from Columbia University and a BA in psychology and political science from Hiram College.

Tamra Thetford

FIELD at the Aspen Institute - tamra.thetford@aspeninst.org

Tamra Thetford is Program Manager at the Aspen Institute Economic Opportunities Program where she heads FIELD's microTracker program. MicroTracker is a national program performance measurement and client outcomes tracking project for the microenterprise industry. With microTracker, she oversees primary data collection and compilation, provides written data analyses and feedback on data use to subscribers, and designs and delivers trainings related to program performance and client outcomes.

William Thompson

OPIC - William.Thompson@opic.gov

Colin Tomkins-Bergh

Kauffman Foundation - ctomkins-bergh@kauffman.org

Colin Tomkins-Bergh is a research analyst in Research and Policy for the Ewing Marion Kauffman Foundation, working to evaluate the effectiveness of entrepreneurial ecosystems following the Great Recession and performing research around the Ag Tech sector. Tomkins-Bergh holds a bachelor's degree in sociology from the University of Wisconsin-Madison, where he also earned certificates in entrepreneurship and leadership.

Kayleigh Torres

Echoing Green - kayleigh@echoinggreen.org

Kayleigh is Echoing Green's Knowledge Management Associate. Her favorite part of being a Salesforce Administrator and Developer is creating innovative systems that make the work of her colleagues supporting the next generation of social entrepreneurs increasingly impactful and quantifiable. From pediatric case management in urban clinics to education policy work in Washington DC, she has always been an advocate for data-driven social change. Kayleigh holds degrees in Community Health and Public Policy from Brown University.

Shannon Trilli

McGraw Hill - shannon.trilli@mhfi.com

As the Director, Corporate Responsibility Strategy, Shannon Trilli is charged with engaging key stakeholders, from business unit leaders and employees to nonprofit partners and policymakers, to meet the Corporate Responsibility and Sustainability Goals of the Corporation; which ultimately aim to provide for jobs and greater access to opportunity. Shannon earned a Master's in Public Administration from New York University, and a Bachelor's in Government from The University of Texas at Austin.

Morgan Tucker

Catholic Relief Services - morgan.tucker@crs.org

Newly hired Coordinator for Impact Investing at CRS. Six months field experience in microfinance implementation and developing social enterprise in Central America and the Caribbean. Previously studied with Grameen Bank, Building Resources Across Communities (BRAC) and ASA in Bangladesh and UNDP in Cambodia. Additional 7 months experience in business development and project management in Brazil as well as 1 year academic study in Nicaragua. Familiar with SPSS, R, UCINET, Pajek and GIS. Master of Public Administration in international development and Development Project Management Institute certificate.

Liz Tully

Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves - etully@cleancookstoves.org

I support for the monitoring and evaluation framework for the Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves. I have supported M&E efforts at Rare, WRI and CATIE before coming to the Global Alliance for Clean Cookstoves.

Maharshi Vaishnav
Educate Girls - zeeshan.sumrani@educategirls.in

Sophia van der Bijl
US Global Development Lab - svanderbijl@usaid.gov

Sophia van der Bijl is a Senior Impact Assessment Advisor in the US Global Development Lab's Office of Evaluation and Impact Assessment. In this role, she coordinates evaluation planning for Lab's programs. Prior to joining the Lab, she worked in USAID's Bureau for Food Security, the Millennium Challenge Corporation, and Chemonics International (in Washington, DC and in Botswana). She holds a Master's degree in international affairs and economics from Johns Hopkins School of Advance International Studies (SAIS), and speaks fluent French.

Marianne Vermeer
Vermeer Consulting Group - marianne@vermeerconsulting.com

Consultant, board member with non profits and for profits looking to create change in their communities; formerly with Acumen Fund and organizations in South Asia.

Adrienne Villani
Premise Data Corporation - adrienne@premise.com

I am currently Director of Business Development at Premise Data Corporation. Previously, I ran an Indian public equities portfolio and worked in the development sector in India.

Pooja Virani
The Aspen Institute - Diaspora Investment Alliance - pooja.virani@aspeninstitute.org

Prior to joining the Aspen Institute, Pooja consulted for various international development organizations, developing business, financial, and strategic plans for Mercy Corp's youth leadership and global citizenship program in the Middle East, a sports for development social enterprise in Bolivia, and a food security and nutrition NGO in Kenya. Most recently, she worked with Ashoka to conduct an impact analysis of its global network of social entrepreneurs. She holds a dual degree MBA in nonprofit management and MA in sustainable international development from the Heller School for Social Policy and Management at Brandeis University, and a BA in international studies and BA in economics from American University.

Tal Viskin
Accenture Development Partnerships - tal.viskin@accenture.com

Tal is a Program Innovation Lead and member of the Accenture Development Partnerships (ADP) management team. He has more than 10 years of experience with a background in organizational strategy and change management across multiple sectors. He leads Accenture Development Partnership's Global Monitoring & Evaluation Offering.

Katrin Vreclas
Evidence Action - katrin.verclas@evidenceaction.org

Katrin Vreclas leads communications and advocacy for Evidence Action. Evidence Action scales up proven development solutions to benefit millions of people. Katrin is an experienced professional with a background in technology for development, and in digital communications. She loves evidence and data on 'what works' in making the world a more equitable place.

Claire Walsh
J-PAL - cnwalsh@mit.edu

Claire Walsh is a Policy Manager at J-PAL where she manages J-PAL's policy publications, Environment & Energy program, and outreach with the impact investing community. Claire holds an M.A. from The Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University where she specialized in Development Economics and International Business Relations. Prior to joining J-PAL in 2012, she worked for nonprofit organizations in East Africa working to improve the quality of education and employment opportunities for youth in the region.

Matthew Weatherley-White
The CAPROCK Group - matthew@thecaprockgroup.com

Architect of The CAPROCK Group's impact platform, sought after speaker and thought-leader on impact investing, and general all around impact investing badass.

Christine Weinreich

Deutsche Gesellschaft Internationale Zusammenarbeit (GIZ) GmbH - christine.weinreich@giz.de

I am an advisor at the sector project Innovative Approaches for Private Sector Development at GIZ where I mainly work on corporate sustainability reporting and impact measurement. I have previously worked at the UN Global Compact Office and a specialised corporate responsibility consultancy.

Lauren Westervelt

International Partnership for Innovative Healthcare Delivery (IPIHD) - lauren.westervelt@duke.edu

Lauren is a Research Associate with IPIHD. In this role, she manages the organization's innovator database and profiles, and provides support other efforts led by the Research and Knowledge Team. Lauren also co-founded and serves as Executive Director of a non-profit that aims to improve opportunities for girls in Mozambique through improved menstrual hygiene management. Lauren holds a master's in public health from the Gillings School of Global Public Health at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill, and a bachelor's degree in international studies with a minor in Spanish from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill where she graduated with honors.

Nancy Widjaja

Accion - Venture Lab - nancy.widjaja@gmail.com

Nancy Widjaja is the Principal Manager of Knowledge and Industry Engagement at Venture Lab, leading the team's efforts in identifying, analyzing, and articulating key trends and lessons emerging from the work of Venture Lab and our portfolio, as well as in engaging with the industry and stakeholders to amplify the reach and scale of our efforts in service of positive and innovative sector development. Nancy holds a bachelor of arts in Economics from the University of Indonesia and an MPA in Development Practice from Columbia University.

Claire Wiley

Grameen America - cwiley@grameenamerica.org

Claire manages Grameen America's impact evaluation efforts, including credit reporting, survey collection and savings programs. Prior to joining the organization in 2013, she worked as a policy aide in the Texas Legislature focusing on legislation affecting children and families.

Justina Wong

Good World Solutions - jwong@goodworldsolutions.org

Justina is the Senior Manager of Global Operations at Good World Solutions, a nonprofit social enterprise that leverages scalable technology to connect workers, farmers, and artisans to the companies that buy their products. Justina leads the design and implementation of Labor Link that has reached 250,000 workers, farmers, and artisans across 16 countries. Justina holds a BA in government from Harvard College and MA in international economics from Johns Hopkins University School of Advanced International Studies.

Eva Woo

Sinovator & China CASVI - eva_woo@sinovator.org

Co-founder of Sinovator; Deputy General Secretary of China CASVI

Davida Wood

World Resources Institute - dwood@wri.org

Davida leads WRI's Electricity Governance Initiative, a global network of civil society organizations working to promote good governance in the electricity sector. Prior to joining WRI, Davida was with USAID's Office of Infrastructure and Engineering, where she developed and managed a portfolio of projects at the nexus of democratization and energy sector governance.

KJ Zunigha

Global Partnerships - kzunigha@globalpartnerships.org

Monitoring and Evaluation professional with background in data visualization, framework and tool design, and strategic planning. Brings experience in global health, women's leadership, and impact investing sectors.