INTRODUCTION
The American Association of Philosophy Teachers (AAPT) and the American Philosophical Association Committee on the Teaching of Philosophy (CTP) have co-organized a two-day conference on teaching for the 2017 Eastern Division meeting. We are aiming to bring the collegial and supportive culture of the AAPT to the APA; highlight teaching within the context of an APA meeting; stretch beyond the traditional APA session format to offer sessions that model active learning; and attract a broader range of philosophers to the divisional meetings.

The conference will include an AAPT workshop; a poster session; one-on-one consultations with expert teachers; and panels on inclusive teaching, teacher training, pre-college teaching, textbook work, and ways we might communicate the value of teaching philosophy to relevant stakeholders. Refreshments will be served at several of the sessions.

THE Philosopher's INDEX

PHILOSOPHER’S INFORMATION CENTER
The Philosophy Documentation Center has served the philosophical community on a non-profit basis since 1966. We now host over 200 journals, series, conference proceedings, and other publications. We manage memberships for two dozen organizations and support essential projects such as PhilPapers, the Stanford Encyclopedia of Philosophy, and TeachPhilosophy101. And we provide listings for 31,000 philosophers in the online International Directory of Philosophy. We continue to grow and everyone in the profession has contributed to our success.

To express our thanks we have made all volumes of the Philosophy Research Archives freely accessible in perpetuity. Established in cooperation with the American and Canadian philosophical associations, it was our first journal.

We are also giving 10 people free access to these titles for a year:

World Congress of Philosophy Collection
(1900-2015, 110 volumes)

Presidential Addresses of the American Philosophical Association
(1901–2000, 11 volumes)

Journal of Philosophical Research
(1990–present, 30 volumes)
