IT GIANT BDPA ANNOUNCES DIVERSITYCOMM. INC GOLD LEVEL SPONSORSHIP

LARGO, MD – DiversityComm.Inc (DCI) became a Gold Level Sponsor for IT giant BDPA. DCI is publisher of six nationally recognized diversity-focused magazines including: Black EOE Journal; HISPANIC Network Magazine; Multicultural Professional Woman's Magazine; U.S. Veterans Magazine; Diversity in STEAM Magazine; and DIVERSEability Magazine. DCI is known throughout the United States for more than 25 years of experience in diversity and inclusion advertising.

DCI now reaches over two million readers and publishes a bi-monthly award-winning e-newsletter that reaches its readers, subscribers and clients. DCI is dedicated to informing, educating and employing from within corporate America to create equal opportunities in more diverse workplaces. And, DCI is a valuable resource for all companies across the nation and regarded as one of the fastest growing diversity publications (www.diversitycomm.net).

Rita Kallas, Director of Inclusive Partnerships stated, "DiversityComm is continually honored and proud to be the national media sponsor of BDPA. We want to recognize their champion efforts in promoting diversity and inclusion with their outreach, programs and initiatives." DCI attended BDPA's 39th Annual National Technology Conference in Cincinnati earlier this month.

For 40 years, BDPA has enabled the upward mobility of minorities in technology from the classroom to the boardroom. BDPA was founded in 1975 by Earl Pace and David Wimberly to close the digital divide for minorities who are underrepresented in Science, Technology, Engineering and Math (STEM) fields. BDPA has over 40 chapters nationwide with more than 2,500 STEM professional and student members. They offer more than $100,000 in scholarships annually to hundreds of high school and college students who wish to pursue STEM careers.

Mike Williams, National BDPA president said "Our relationship with DiversityComm has continued to grow over the years. We are delighted that they have chosen to be a Gold Sponsor this year and we look forward to partnering with them to increase diversity in the workforce."
