CSTA's mission is to empower, engage and advocate for K-12 Computer Science teachers worldwide.

The Computer Science Teachers Association (CSTA) is a membership organization that supports and promotes the teaching of computer science and other computing disciplines. The Association of Computing Machinery founded CSTA as part of its commitment to K-12 computer science education. With more than 26,000 members across 145 countries, CSTA provides opportunities and professional development resources for K-12 teachers to better understand the computing disciplines and to more successfully prepare themselves to teach computer science to their students in classrooms worldwide.

Strategic Initiatives:

Professional Development:
- Computer Science Professional Development Week
- Professional Development (PD) Pipeline Project
- Cyber Teacher Program
- Game Design Certificate
- Annual Conference
- Chapter Leadership Summit
- 2017 K-12 Computer Science Standards released (July)

Big IDEA:
- Focus on Inclusion, Diversity, Equity and Access
- "Computer Science Is..." Campaign initiated

Awards For Members:
- 35 Oracle Academy First Timer Conference Scholarships
- 100 Google Chapter Leadership Summit Scholarships
- 25 Rolls Royce Conference Scholarships
- 10 Infosys Foundation USA/ACM/CSTA Awards for Excellence in Teaching Computer Science
- 3 Cutler-Bell Prizes
- Volunteer of the Year; Advocate of the Year
- Administrator Impact Award

For more information about Computer Science Teachers Association visit: www.csteachers.org or contact (800) 694-8320