Saba, Dutch Caribbean

John Magor and Lynn Costenaro are happy to report Sea Saba Dive Center and the island of Saba weathered both Irma and Maria with only superficial damage. Diving services will begin on September 27, 2017. All hotels, restaurants, shops, airport and harbor are ready for business. We await updates from the island of St. Maarten, our hub, on when the SXM airport will again be operational. Interim arrangements via St. Kitts are the short term solution being worked on by our government.

We look forward to meeting you and explaining all the reasons why Saba remains "The Unspoiled Queen". See you in Orlando!
