

BANNED BOOKS WEEK

GADSDEN READS: FAHRENHEIT 451

SEPTEMBER 23-27, 2013

-
-
- SEPTEMBER 23, 7PM-Kickoff-Destruction of an artistic representation of banned books (in collaboration with Walnut Gallery Director and Gadsden State Community College art instructor Mario Gallardo and his art students). Location: Parking lot of the Gadsden Public Library
  - SEPTEMBER 24, NOON-Lecture by Gadsden State Community College's Chris Harrison on Bradbury's Fahrenheit 451 and the history of banned books. Location: Meadows Library at Gadsden State Community College
  - SEPTEMBER 25, NOON-Scholarly discussion of Bradbury's Fahrenheit 451 featuring Dr. Robert Woods, four-year fellow at the Bradbury Center. Participants are encouraged to bring a brown bag lunch. However, lunch will be provided to Kiwanis members. Location: Hardin Center for Cultural Arts
  - SEPTEMBER 26, 5:30PM- General public book discussion of Bradbury's Fahrenheit 451. Participants will be responsible for their own bar tabs. Location: Back Forty Beer Company
  - SEPTEMBER 27, 6PM-Gadsden Museum of Art Banned Books Book Art Exhibit with live readings from banned books. Location: Leo Reynolds Gallery of the Gadsden Museum of Art

Banned Books Week Gadsden Reads: Fahrenheit 451 is generously supported by the Gadsden Public Library, Gadsden State Community College/Meadows Resource Learning Center, and the Hardin Center for Cultural Arts, as well as through a grant funded by the Freedom to Read Foundation's Judith F. Krug Memorial Fund.

For additional information, please contact Carol at 256.549.4699, ext. 107, or email at carol@gadsdenlibrary.org.