Therapeutic Approaches to Dementia

Families, caregivers and long-term care professionals underestimate the abilities of individuals in mid-stage and late-stage dementia. Many feel the ability to remain continent, dress and feed themselves, and engage in leisure and recreational skills is no longer possible. This course will provide a practical approach to dementia with practical examples of how to maintain these skills, deal with problem behaviors and challenge these individuals to live a full life… one filled with joy.

Course Director

LANNY BUTLER, MS, OTR, received his undergraduate degree in Occupational Therapy from the University of North Dakota and his advanced degree from the University of Puget Sound in Tacoma, Washington. He has worked as an educator, consultant and therapist for 30 years; the past 16 years have been dedicated to serving the elderly. He researched and developed a practical approach to caring for individuals with dementia, called Dementia Possible Care®. He is the founder and President of IATB Dementia Care.
