

ISSA is the community of choice for international professionals dedicated to advancing individual growth, managing technology risk, and protecting critical information and infrastructure

Established in 1984, the Information Systems Security Association's (ISSA) primary goal is to promote practices that will ensure the confidentiality, integrity, and availability of organizational information resources. Our core purpose is to promote a secure digital world.

ISSA is the largest international, not-for-profit professional association in the information security community. ISSA has 134 chapters (and growing), reaching more than 11,000 security professionals in 92 countries across the globe. ISSA members are consistently recognized as experts on critical issues in all areas of cyber and information security, and the group is seen as a critical resource for small businesses, global enterprises, and government organizations alike.

When members choose to join the ISSA, it says a lot about their goals and aspirations. Each of our members is an information security professional, they constantly looking for new ways to stay up to date on current trends in the industry, and constantly striving to improve their standing in the information security arena.

Experience the power of a partnership with the ISSA
