Diagnosis of VTE during pregnancy

Women’s Health Issues

- Person responsible (Chair / Principal Investigator): M. Huisman, C. McLintock, A. James

- Aim / Mandate of the project: Evaluation of the role of clinical prediction, D-Dimer and imaging techniques in pregnant women

- Methodology (in very brief, not more than 1 paragraph):
  multicenter/multinational studies outcome studies

- Inclusion / recruitment criteria (if applicable):

- Year of starting: 2009

- Annual report of project:

  EDVIGE study (assessment of the safety of using single complete compression ultrasonography in pregnant and postpartum women to rule out deep vein thrombosis) recently published

  PEP study (evaluating the safety of up front CTPA in every pregnant patient with clinically suspected PE): patient recruitment ongoing, another 30 required

- Year of completion (expected): undefined