

What topics would you like IRT to address?

- how to avoid info overload
- cultural sensitivity
- education sensitivity - we make assumptions about their prior knowledge, how do we find out what students already know?
- technology: digital natives/immigrants
- Access issues, digital divide
- language learning
- lack of teaching training - share techniques, pedagogy
- software, technology, apps
- teaching online, blended classrooms
- reaching distance, non-traditional students
- curricular integration
- assessment
- Collaboration, partnering with other people on campus
- How to reach out to faculty (How do you pry open their door?)
- High school to college transition
- Marketing of instruction services, assessing marketing efforts
- Getting feedback from students/learners
- training across library types
- how do you get students to ask questions?

How would you like to communicate with IRT?

- A wiki to share instructional materials.
- taggable resource, repository of teaching materials
- Email!
- Not email!
- Blog/forum like thing on MLA website

What types of events would you like to see?

- formal and informal events
- virtual brown bag
- Immersion recap
- instruction retreat
- teaching demos “this is how I teach ____”
- online options as well as face to face
- something in conjunction with PLD and ARLD Day and MLA, LibTech is another option
- Happy Hour, in different locations/regions