

Specialist Certificate Tracking Form for Workplace Productivity

If your business focus is working with micro and small businesses, the workplace productivity track is a great place to start building your knowledge and hone in on this market. This educational track will help you to strengthen your foundation in workplace productivity through the development of three basic class divisions. Choosing classes from each division will equip the workplace productivity consultant with a well-rounded diversity of knowledge:

To earn the NAPO Specialist Certificate in Workplace Productivity, you must complete a minimum of eight (8) classes in the following:
