July 20, 2017

A new version of the NFRC Simulation Manual is available for download on the NFRC website.

There are two minor changes to the manual:

1. The document is now under the control of NFRC.
2. A clarification that non-continuous hinges shall not be modeled. This does mean that continuous hinges shall be modeled the same as all other continuous parts.

If you have any questions, please contact Steven Urich, Senior Manager, Programs, at 240-821-9514.

NFRC envisions a future where every window, door, and skylight purchase decision is made using the NFRC label to evaluate energy performance.
