Speaker Biographies

Dr. Stephen Honor

Dr. Honor earned a Ph.D. in Clinical Psychology from Hofstra University. He maintains a full-time practice in forensic and clinical neuropsychology in Smithtown, NY for the past 40 years. He is board certified by the American Board of Professional Psychology (ABPP) in Clinical Neuropsychology (ABCN), Forensic Psychology, (ABFP), and Clinical Psychology (ABPP). He is a Fellow of the American College of Forensic Psychology, the National Academy of Neuropsychology, and the American Academy of Forensic Psychology.

His experience includes serving as a Medical Advisor to the Department of Health and Human Service. He has testified locally and nationally in a number of legal cases, including murder, personal injury and custody evaluations. He has also given a number of professional lectures. He has also taught graduate courses in forensic examination as a faculty member at Touro College.

He is an active member of the NYSAN, serving on the Professional Affairs Committee and the Workers’ Compensation/No-Fault Committee.

Professional Written Works:

Dr. J. Lawrence Thomas

Dr. Thomas earned his bachelor’s degree from the University of California, Berkeley and Ph.D. from the City University of New York in Clinical Psychology in 1980. He has post-doctoral training in group therapy, cognitive therapy, relationship therapy, and neuropsychology. He completed a neuropsychology internship at Brooklyn VA Hospital and a Clinical Psychology internship at Bellevue Psychiatric Hospital.

He has held faculty appointments at Albert Einstein College of Medicine and New York University Medical Center. He practices clinical psychology and neuropsychology, specializing in diagnosing and treating adult ADHD, learning disorders, and mild head injury for more than three decades. He maintains a psychotherapy and neuropsychology practice in New York City.

Dr. Thomas is board certified in EEG Biofeedback (BCIA). He is a member of the NAN, APA Division 40 & 42, New York Neuropsychology Group, Learning Disability Association, and a Fellow of the Foundation for Behavioral Heath. He has been awarded the Distinguished Service Award, NYSPA (6/2000), among others.

Dr. Thomas has published on the topics of neurofeedback for TBI, neurotherapy, treatment strategies for TBI, chronic pain, stress/anxiety, depression, and ADHD.

Professional Written Works:

Dr. Frank J. Corigliano

Dr. Corigliano earned a bachelor’s degree in psychology from Baruch College, CUNY. He then earned a Master's degree in psychology from Teachers College of Columbia University and a Ph.D. in clinical psychology from Saint John's University in 2010. During his graduate training he completed externships at Bellevue Hospital Center in adult inpatient psychiatry and Columbia University Medical Center in Adult neuropsychology. He completed his Psychology Internship at Friends Hospital and two Postdoctoral Fellowships at The Osborne Association and at The Institute for Human Identity.

He is currently a Staff Psychologist at The Institute for Human Identity. He specializes in telemedicine and telepsychology and has given many talks on the topics at national and international conferences. He is scheduled to present at the APA’s upcoming Annual Convention in Boulder, Colorado.

Topic References: