Insurance – an understandably dreaded topic but potentially life-saving. The absolute worst thing about insurance is that a lot of people pay hefty premiums for an insurance policy that won't pay their claims. This course is designed to decode the complex language used in insurance policies to help you better understand the coverage (or lack thereof). We will share horror stories of title agents who paid tens of thousands of dollars to insurance carriers who ultimately denied their claims. We will give you the tools to avoid those costly situations and make sure you have the coverage you need when you need it.
