2013 QHR National Trustee Conferences

Health reform, coupled with state and federal cutbacks, have put hospitals in a position of doing more with less. At the 2013 QHR Trustee Conferences, national speakers, QHR thought leaders and client hospitals will focus on performance improvement strategies and case studies to help your hospital adjust to anticipated reductions in reimbursement while maintaining quality of care. Trustees have a fiduciary responsibility to oversee the hospital’s financial health and quality of care, so plan to attend one of these important conferences to learn how to fulfill your duties and support your management team in making tough strategic decisions.

QHR offers this one-and-a-half-day event twice in 2013. Attend the event most convenient for you! Hospital trustees not only benefit from the education sessions, but also from the opportunity to network and share ideas with peers.

Participants will learn about trends in:
- Quality and Performance Improvement
