Member Types

HR Practitioner

HR Practitioners are members whose current professional employment and primary career interest is in the field of HR management. This type is right for you if your primary job function is human resources, as either a generalist or specialist. Also, faculty members of colleges and universities who hold assistant, associate or full professor rank in HR management or any of its specializations are qualified for HR Practitioner Membership. This classification also includes recent college graduates and persons pursuing career changes to Human Resources. HR Practitioner Members have the right to vote and hold elective office in the Chapter.

Affiliate Member

This type of membership is right for you if you are a professional who currently works for a company that sells products, services or consulting to HR professionals, or if your job title or primary function is not directly in HR. Major classifications include: HR consultants, HR service providers and attorneys. Affiliate Members have the right to vote and hold elective office in the Chapter.

Student Member

This type of membership is right for you if you are a full-time university or college student (enrolled for 12 hours or more for undergraduate students or six (6) hours or more for graduate students*) or belong to a chartered SHRM Student Chapter. Student Members may participate in Chapter activities and are eligible to vote. Student Members may not hold Chapter office.

*Students must provide proof of enrollment, please provide with application submission.

*Memberships belong to the individual and cannot be transferred or substituted for another person.
Memberships cannot be cancelled or refunded.*
