

STUDENT INTERNS AND THE FAIR LABOR STANDARDS ACT

This lecture will focus on the application of the Fair Labor Standards Act to internships. Student internships are common in many industries and are generally unpaid. However, the Eleventh Circuit in Schumann, et al v. Collier Anesthesia, et al recently adopted a new test which could render some interns employees and require them to receive compensation. This will benefit attorneys who practice in the area of wage and hour law specifically as this new guidance changes the analysis we must apply in these cases, but could have wider application to attorneys who own or manage law firms which utilize or are considering utilizing student interns.
