

Hiram College Alumni Volunteers @ The Holden Arboretum Saturday, September 7, 9am to Noon

Come assist horticulture staff maintain the beautiful gardens at Lantern Court! Built in the 1930s as a residence for Warren H. and Maud Corning, Lantern Court is now part of The Holden Arboretum. The landscaping was planned by Warren Corning and landscape architect Donald Gray. Entering the grounds, visitors can enjoy the view of magnificent perennial borders, rose and wildflower gardens, rockery and hosta collections. A terrace at the house overlooks a wooded ravine where a tributary of the East Branch of the Chagrin River forms a 20-foot waterfall.
