

HOW DOES ATMAE HELP ME?

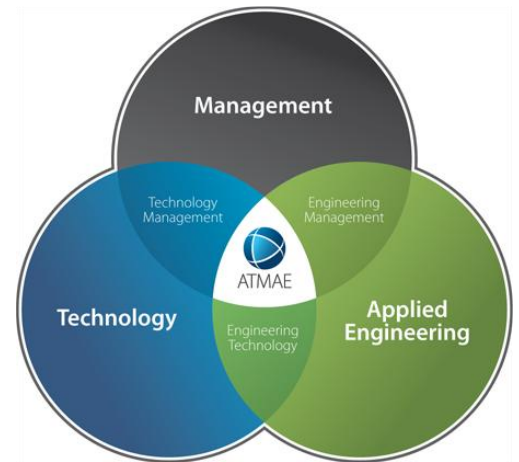

By partnering with the Association of Technology, Management, and Applied Engineering at our Annual Conference, you ensure contact with ATMAE's influential member base of over 500 companies, community colleges, and universities throughout the United States.

The Need

Numerous studies report a moderate to severe shortage of skilled labor. As every industry becomes more technical and as the "baby boom" generation retires, the need for knowledgeable replacement workers becomes necessary just to maintain current operations.

Students and ATMAE

ATMAE's largest individual member category is the student category. ATMAE offers certifications and competitions for students so that they can stand out to potential employers. ATMAE's conference brings together those students who want to do more than just attend classes by offering a competitive robotics competition, a "Jeopardy style" technology challenge, plus almost two full days of additional workshops and competitions so that you gain access to our best and brightest.

WHO ATTENDS OUR MEETINGS

- 70% Individuals employed at 2-year or 4-year institutions which includes universities, community colleges, and technical institutions.
- 26% Students who are enrolled full time in a community college, technical institute or university.
- 4% Individuals employed in business and industry.
