Le Cordon Bleu College of Culinary Arts in Orlando takes home top award from the Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges

ORLANDO, FL – Aug. 11, 2011 – Le Cordon Bleu College of Culinary Arts in Orlando has received top honors from the Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges (FAPSC), a statewide organization representing more than 200 career-oriented schools.

William Mather from Le Cordon Bleu College of Culinary Arts accepted the 2011 Education Administrator of the Year award, which was presented at the FAPSC Annual Conference in August. The award is given out to one recipient each year.

“William Mather excels at putting students first. He has developed and implemented curriculum changes, fostered student activity clubs and exposed students to internship and job opportunities. The community and charitable events he organizes has created a synergistic relationship with the Orlando community that casts a positive reflection on the school and students,” said Kathy Mizereck, executive director of FAPSC.

Fourteen annual awards were selected by a panel and handed out during the FAPSC Annual Conference in South Florida attended by more than 460 administrators and faculty members.

The Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges (FAPSC) works on behalf of all Florida’s degree granting and non-degree granting career schools and colleges. Licensed by the state, these schools educate and prepare more than 379,000 students each year for employment in more than 200 occupational fields.
