MIAMI – Aug. 10, 2012 – Randy Proto of American Institute has received top honors from the Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges (FAPSC), a statewide organization representing more than 200 career-oriented schools.

Proto was named the 2012 FAPSC Member of the Year at the FAPSC Annual Conference. The award is given out to one recipient each year for dedication in furthering education about the career college sector.

“Randy, a prolific writer and inspirational leader, has been instrumental in advocacy at the state and national level and is always working to make a difference in the lives of many,” said Kathy Mizereck, executive director of FAPSC.

Fifteen annual awards were selected by a panel and handed out during the FAPSC Annual Conference in South Florida attended by administrators and faculty members from across the state.

The Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges (FAPSC) works on behalf of all Florida's degree granting and non-degree granting career schools and colleges. Licensed by the state, these schools educate and prepare more than 379,000 students each year for employment in more than 200 occupational fields.
