Full Sail University takes home top awards from the Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges

ORLANDO, FL – Sept. 16, 2013 – Full Sail University, a leader in providing degree programs in the fields of entertainment and media, received two of the highest honors given to career schools by the Florida Association of Postsecondary Schools and Colleges (FAPSC).

Jonathan Levy was named a 2013 Graduate of the Year and Robin Koman was honored with an Education Administrator of the Year award at the FAPSC Annual Conference held recently in South Florida.

Jonathan Levy graduated from Full Sail University in just 21 months with a bachelor's degree. "He earned academic honors as class valedictorian, instructor recognition with four director awards, and the respect of his classmates who selected him 'Most Likely to Succeed'," said Curtis Austin, executive director of FAPSC.

Since graduation, Levy has had the opportunity to work with music industry legends Clive Davis and Dave Grohl and currently is in the artist and repertoire department of Atlantic Records in New York. He uses his talents to give back at events for causes such as cystic fibrosis and breast cancer research.

Full Sail offers master's, bachelor's and associate degrees at its Orlando area campus as well as online.

Koman, a course director for the university's masters degree in game design, is an author, designer, playwright, and gamer. She focuses her teaching on leadership and team dynamics.

"Through her efforts, program enrollments have increased, course reviews have improved and students have embraced new learning opportunities. Robin has served as a tireless champion of academic rigor and meaningful student achievement," Austin said.

FAPSC has been the voice of Florida's career schools since 1956. The association of more than 250 members works on behalf of the more than 1,000 licensed private career schools and colleges in Florida that prepare 400,000 students each year for employment in more than 200 occupational fields by offering degree programs, certification and training.
