

Alfred Enagbare, Ph.D.
Vice President, Human Resources
The Travelers Companies, Inc.

Dr. Alfred Enagbare is Vice President of Human Resources, responsible for Technology, Enterprise Operations, eBusiness and Enterprise Business Intelligence & Analytics, for The Travelers Companies, Inc. He has also held positions of Vice President, Human Resources for Business Insurance, and Field Human Resources.

Dr. Enagbare's 30-year career in pharmaceuticals, consumer health, hospitality, retail, financial services, and insurance has included leadership roles in general management and human resources. He has extensive experience in diagnosing the talent implications of a business strategy and partnering with leaders to formulate talent and organizational initiatives to support achievement of the business goals.

Prior to joining Travelers, in March 2010, Dr. Enagbare worked for The Hartford Financial Services Group, Inc., as Vice President of Human Resources for the Group Benefits Division. He also worked for Novartis Pharmaceuticals Group in several senior human resources positions, including Director of Global Human Resources and Vice President of Human Resources for the Novartis Consumer Health organization. Prior to that, he held a number of senior level positions for McDonald's Corporation in the U.S. and South Africa, including the establishment of McDonald's in South Africa.

He is the President of the Board of Directors for the Human Resources Leadership Forum of Southern New England, and a member of the Goodwin College Business Administration Program Advisory Board, the Society for Human Resource Management, and the National Association of African Americans in Human Resources.

He holds both a bachelor's degree and a master's degree from San Francisco State University, and a Ph.D. from Golden Gate University.

Dr. Enagbare and his family currently reside in Connecticut, USA.