

Call for Presentations

Share your expertise with local facility managers at the IFMA Oregon and SW Washington 2018 Symposium

Our annual Symposium will be held Thursday, May 24th, 2018 at Edgefield. It provides a high-quality education and networking opportunity for FM professionals and their project partners. The single-day, multiple-track format offers education sessions focused on emerging issues, best practices, and complex challenges facing facilities, real estate and AEC professionals in today's global workplace.

2018 Theme: THE NEW WORKPLACE

- Presentations may focus on fundamental, intermediate, or advanced topics, but the emphasis should be on the various types of and approaches to and influences on workplace innovation.
- Membership in IFMA is NOT required to submit.
- Education sessions are 60-minutes each

Submissions must include:

A title and maximum 150-word description of your presentation

Learning outcomes: What knowledge will attendees take away from your session?

All speakers must be identified at the time of submission. Why are you the right one(s) to present this information? Names, titles, contact information and prior presentation experience must be provided. Panel presentations are limited to four speakers—three panelists plus one moderator.

Please email submissions to: swortman@lrsarchitects.com Please put "IFMA Symposium Speaker Submission" in the subject line of your email.

Call for Presentations Deadline is: Wednesday, February 28, 2018.

Selected speakers will be notified by March 15 and will receive free admission to the Symposium.

We look forward to seeing you at the podium in May!

Thank you,

Sarah Wortman, Symposium Chair
swortman@lrsarchitects.com

