

1989 ITAA Fellow – Marilyn DeLong

Marilyn R. DeLong, Professor in the Department of Design, Housing and Apparel, University of Minnesota, is a member of AHEA, MHEA, Costume Society of America, Omicron Nu, Gamma Sigma Delta, and Phi Upsilon Omicron. She has served both as past Central Region and National ACPTC President. She is author of The Way We Look: A Framework for Visual Analysis of Dress which, in addition to her research and article publications, has contributed significantly to the literature. Her leadership for pathbreaking research with industry has demonstrated the relevance of the textiles and clothing field to the world at large. She has been an advisor for numerous doctoral students who also are making successful contributions to the literature.