

1993 ITAA Fellow – Nancy Owens

Nancy Owens, Professor at California State University at Northridge, was editor of the Clothing and Textiles Research Journal from 1988-1992. She was involved in the initial planning for CTRJ and helped broaden its focus to include both qualitative and quantitative research. As editor, she was a master at mentoring authors and brought an enlightened perspective on the role of reviewers as contributing to a synergistic interaction, not an antagonistic one. She has served ITAA as Western Region Treasurer and is active in other professional organizations including ASTM and California HEA.

Nancy retired from California State University, Northridge at the end of 2003 and spent the first few years of her retirement co-chairing the Los Angeles ITAA conference and serving as Vice President for Scholarship.
